Rodger Ward Speed Champ

He Sets New Record in His Close Win at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—Rodger Ward, 38-year-old former Army pilot from Los Angeles, won a tight, three-way speed contest for the 500-mile auto race championship Saturday.

The veteran racer reversed the result of the world's record 100-mile Daytona Beach race last month by beating Jim Rathmann of Miami, who was second by only 23 seconds.

Reporter Says Rex Whitton's Story Varied

Issue Is Whether Representative Protested Repairs

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A St. Louis newspaper reporter told a special House committee today the chief engineer of the highway commission told him a somewhat different story than he told before the committee earlier.

Edward H. Thornton, a reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, referred to his notes of a telephone conversation he had with Chief Engineer Rex M. Whitton shortly after the investigating committee was formed.

At issue was whether Rep. R. J. King (R) of St. Louis County protested when Whitton said some damaged concrete work on the Shell Knob bridge would have to be replaced. Whitton had testified that King protested bitterly because of the cost of replacement.

King's company held the performance bond of the firm which built the bridge, C. Rallo Construction Co. of St. Louis.

Thornton said his notes showed that Whitton told him: "I wouldn't say he protested bitterly—I don't even recall that he protested."

Whitton was sitting nearby as Thornton read his notes. Later, he tried to get the committee to let him testify again. But the committee went into executive session—making the unusual move, however, of asking Whitton to attend the closed session.

Whitton said later he told the committee he thought Thornton's testimony made it appear that King didn't protest at all. Thornton showed him the notes he had made on the conversation.

The committee hopes to complete its final report on the investigation late today or tomorrow. The investigation was ordered at King's request to determine whether the highway commission's qualification rule is fair to all highway bidders.

It requires that a contracting firm must first complete a job of less than $250,000 before it can bid on a bigger project.

Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton has advised the committee it will take some time to prepare an opinion on the legality of the bidding rule.

Benson Will Issue Wheat Proclamation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson will issue a proclamation Monday putting the government's old wheat program into effect for the 1960 crop.

He has no alternative because Congress has failed to come up with a new program. There is general agreement among farm leaders that the present program has failed because a record surplus of the grain has accumulated despite attempts to control production.

The administration called for a new program, but congressional farm leaders do not like a plan advocated by Benson of lowering price supports and doing away with controls.

Gromyko Demands Free City

He Accuses West Of Subversive Acts In German Capital

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko accused the western powers Saturday of subversive activities in Berlin and demanded an end to their occupation of West Berlin.

Western diplomats said Gromyko spoke for 40 minutes in the Big Four foreign ministers conference, formally presenting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's six-month-old demand that the West agree to make Berlin a free city.

Some informants said Gromyko hinted at a possible compromise of the Berlin problem, saying that if the Big Four put their minds to the problem they may be able to find an acceptable solution.

Gromyko rejected the Western plan for Berlin even as a basis for discussion by the conference. He said:

"The Western proposals are unacceptable from beginning to end. They cannot be the subject of consideration. The Western foreign ministers are by no means unaware of this fact."

He claimed dozens of subversive organizations now are located in West Berlin and assailed Rias, the Western radio station, which he claimed spreads "rumors, slanders and appeals for sabotage and disorders" in eastern Europe.

He proposed the establishment of a commission in connection with the Soviet plan for a free demilitarized West Berlin. This Commission would be made up of representatives of the Big Four powers and Communist East Germany but "could not have executive powers."

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville rejected the proposal for demilitarization of West Berlin. They said that since the Russians could not accept the Western proposals for the city and the West could not accept the Soviet idea it was preferable to maintain the present status of West Berlin until Germany was reunified.

Sheriffs Voted Increase

Third Class County Lawmen To Get $1,000

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A pay raise for third and fourth class county sheriffs, for doing what many of them already do, whipped through the Missouri House today. The measure now goes to the governor.

It would give third class county sheriffs $1,000 a year and fourth class sheriffs $500. But they would have to take fingerprints and photographs of convicted persons and supply copies to the State Highway Patrol and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

That's standard practice in a number of counties.

The house also passed nine other bills and sent them to the governor as it marked time, waiting for the revenue and appropriation bills to come up. Among the bills passed were ones to:

Let St. Louis County issue revenue bonds to finance a new courts building. Before the bonds could be issued, however, four-sevenths of the county's voters would have to approve the plan. Allow all municipalities to levy up to a $1, instead of 60 cents, for each $100 valuation to finance street repairs.

Raise the jurisdiction of magistrate courts so suits involving higher damages could be filed. The maximum would be $2,000 in metropolitan areas and $1,000 in rural areas.

Earlier the House held memorial services for 28 former members who died in the past two years.

Yesterday the House passed and sent back to the Senate a revised bill for state regulation of motorboats over 10 horsepower. The bill calls for a $5 license good for three years and sets out a code of water safety requirements.

Discuss Increase With City Firemen

Members of the Sedalia fire department met Friday night with Mayor Abe Silverman and members of the fire and water committee and the finance committee of the City Council to discuss a possible cost-of-living wage increase.

Nothing definite was settled at this meeting, but after its completion, it appeared both the city and the firemen were about in accord on any raise that might be forthcoming.

It is known the city fathers have had in mind an "across-the-board" raise for all city employees as soon as the various department budgets could be worked out to conform with the income of the city.

The Council meets Monday night in regular session, at which time the budgets are expected to be announced, appointments made, and other routine business taken up.

Miffed Over a Snubbing

General Assembly Apathy, Woman's Ire Foil New Law

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A woman's ire and apathy of the General Assembly toward traffic safety regulations apparently have combined to foil the last chance this session for passage of a point system drivers' license law.

The measure was one of seven recommended by a joint committee on traffic safety. The committee held meetings all over Missouri to get the ideas of the public on what laws would help reduce the traffic death toll.

But the committee's recommendations ran into trouble in both House and Senate. They killed or took no action on all but one of the proposals.

The point system bill sets up a series of demerits for various traffic offenses. When a driver piles up a certain number of demerits, his license would be suspended or revoked.

The House manhandled the bill, putting on an amendment so crippling, the sponsor let it sit. The Senate passed a similar measure in the final weeks of the session. The bill was assigned to the House Motor Vehicle committee of which Rep. Jennie Chinn (D) of Shelby County is chairman. The committee, according to Miss Chinn, voted to take no action.

"Why should we take action when the Senate hasn't passed some of our bills?" she asked.

She was miffed because a pet bill was killed by the Senate. The measure would have required the words "Family Vacationland" to be added to Missouri license plates.

The only portion of the traffic safety program to win final passage in both houses increased the

Compromise On Use Tax

Other Appropriation Bills Ready for Fast Treatment

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The log-jam on Missouri's fiscal position appeared to be broken Saturday. House-Senate conferees agreed late Friday on a compromise version of a proposed 2 per cent use tax.

The Senate adopted the conference committee version of the tax and sent it to the House without discussion. The vote on the measure was 28-1. House action was expected later in the day.

Major appropriations bills have been up in the air pending the outcome of the use tax struggle that tied up the ten-man conference committee for a week. Settlement of the dispute came after both houses had discharged their committee-men and appointed new compromise teams.

With the use tax ready for passage, the appropriations measures are expected to be moved to the firing line for quick action. Some legislative leaders were hopeful that swift action on the tax and on the money bills will allow the 70th general assembly to wrap up its regular session and adjourn before the constitutional deadline Sunday.

The Senate's President Pro Tem, Floyd R. Gibson (D) of Independence, and the House Speaker, Rep. Richard H. Ichord (D) of Texas County, estimated the use tax in its present form would produce between 8 and 12 million dollars a year.

A yield that large would enable the Appropriations Conference Committee to restore most of the huge cuts made by the Senate in the figures set by the House. Senate reductions amounted to nearly 27 million dollars over a two-year span.

Many members of the House, however, said they did not believe the use tax would produce more than two or three million dollars a year because of the sweeping exemptions inserted by the Senate.

The most thorny exemption—one on which the conferees locked horns—would have freed new or expanding industries from payment of the tax on machinery bought outside the state's borders but intended for use inside. It was narrowed by the committee.

The compromise solution would exempt machinery and equipment not "readily obtainable" in Missouri but used directly in manufacturing, mining, processing or producing a product that will be sold for final use or consumption.

Just before the conference committee on the use tax reached an agreement, the House and Senate stalled on another tax bill—a proposal to boost the state sales tax from 2 to 2½ per cent.

Super-Sleuth Committee Is Defeated

Bill to Set It Up Is Killed in State Senate on Saturday

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A plan to set up a super-sleuthing committee to pry into operations of all state agencies and departments was killed in the Missouri Senate Saturday.

The vote defeating the proposal on the next to the last day of the session was 10-11.

The bill called for a committee of five senators and five representatives to look into the rules, regulations, practices and procedures of any state department. Sponsors said some agencies make rules far beyond their legal authority and they should be curbed.

But Sen. Ormer H. Avery (D) of Troy objected.

"We shouldn't be breathing down their necks all the time and telling them what to do," he said in describing the plan as an improper invasion of the executive branch of the government.

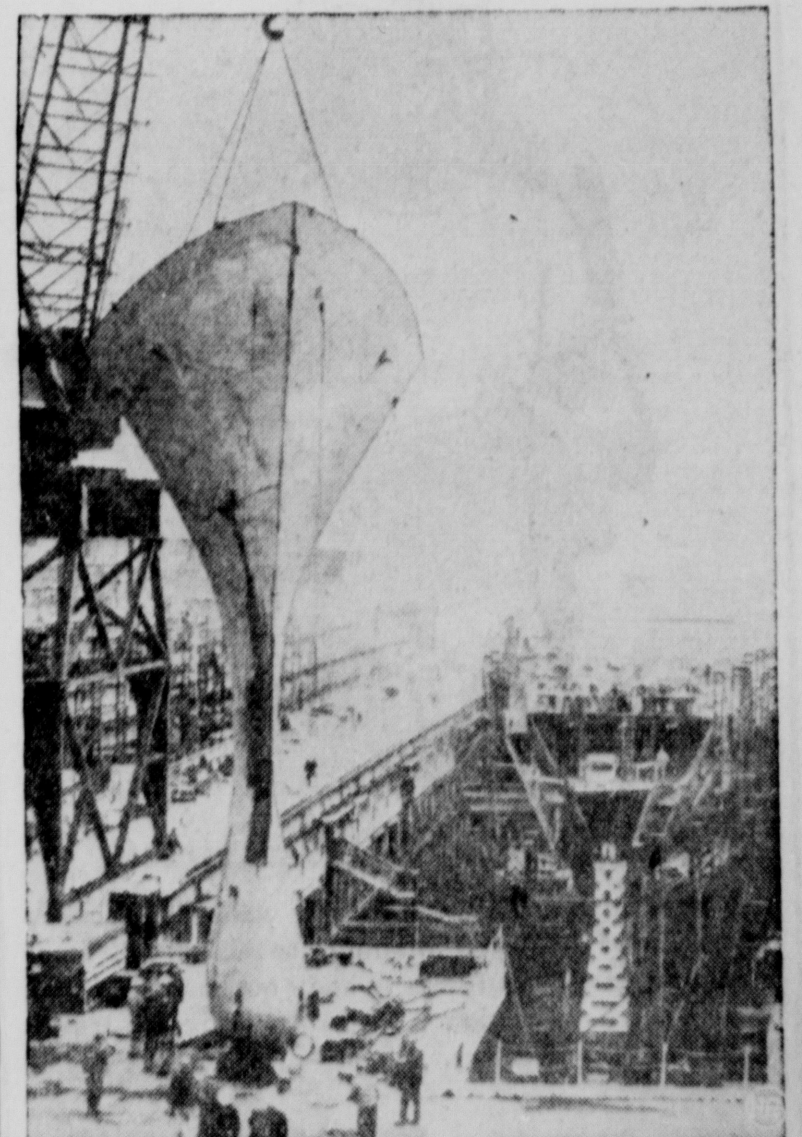

Both Democrats and Republicans agree with him in killing the bill.

Passed and sent to the governor during the slow cleanup process was a bill that would let cities use their zoning powers to preserve historic sites.

Friday the Senate voted to make the Commission on Human Rights a permanent state agency and to aid industrial development. A proposed constitutional amendment was approved after lengthy debate. It would allow municipalities outside of the St. Louis and Kansas City areas to issue general obligation or revenue bonds to buy or build plants that could be leased to private industry.

Sponsors contended the proposal, if approved by the voters, would stimulate the state's industrial economy. The measure was criticized by opponents as authorizing the spending of tax money for the benefit of private firms.

Their Attractions Are Better Than Ever

City Parks Are Ready for Visitors

By HAZEL LANG

Sedalia parks are all ready for the thousands of visitors they will accommodate this summer from Sedalia, communities surrounding here and from all over the world. Sedalia's parks are off its parks with pride, particularly Liberty Park, which is the largest and offers the most beauty and entertainment.

Liberty Park already this year has had more than 5,000 passengers riding its little train. Several thousand people have visited the new Memorial Rose Garden, a real beauty spot, and the new platform has been kept busy with square dancers, for there are three square dances regularly scheduled a week, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights.

On Thursday nights the square dancing comes after the band concert. This platform provides plenty of seats for those who want to listen to the band concert and there is no longer the discomfort of the wet grass.

The kids find the platform a wonderful place to roller skate, too, and just as soon as Lloyd R. Black, superintendent of city parks, and his helpers get around it, they are going to paint a shuffleboard on it, to add something else to its many uses. They even have in mind putting up portable basketball goals later. This platform contains two hundred yards of concrete.

The concrete stage is lighted and one of these days will have a top on it, but that's another thing that will have to wait a little while. The stage has electrical outlets for the needs of those who might want to use it. Later there will be railings around it at the sides and back. Now there are chains.

The old skating rink building has been converted into a workshop where Black and his three year-around employees make all sorts of things for the parks, from ovens out of old boilers to mending park benches and painting them.

The building also houses all the park equipment, provides an office for Black and one of these days will give the park board a nice board room to meet in. One wall has already been paneled. During the summer months there are ten employees and three of these do nothing but mow the grass at the city parks—that is a job in itself. To keep Liberty Park beautiful, flower beds have been set out. In the formal garden in front of Convention Hall, are periwinkle, little petunias of various colors and over the swimming pool, where it is necessary to have flowers that can take not only the heat but also rough treatment, will be beds of zinnias and marigolds.

Because a park must have trees to really be a park, and since old trees eventually die out or are ruined by storms, 50 new trees have been planted, some of them the new patented elms.

In addition to the familiar picnic tables and benches that may be seen in all the Sedalia parks, two new type tables are now in Liberty Park. They are large round tables with concrete benches. The benches were made by the men of the park department, and so were the tables, out of reels on which telephone cables come. They have used old pipes for legs.

The old type ovens didn't hold up well, so Black and his men bought old boilers, cut them up, made ovens out of them and mounted them on pipes that they also picked up as junk. The ovens are chained in place, but they weigh 200 pounds so nobody is likely to carry one very far off. Even the junk costs money said Black, the old boilers cost $25! But since they do all the work themselves, they are able to have many more things for the parks. They do about 90 per cent of the maintenance work. Now they have trucks with ladders on them so they can change the light bulbs when they burn out without calling electricians.

The men are in the process of fixing the ball park fence. They have a job keeping the baseball diamonds in shape, and they have just finished painting the swimming pools at both Liberty Park and Hubbard Park.

In the basement of Liberty Park pool is a big pump that circulates the water through four large filter tanks before it goes into the pool and there, too, is the machine which puts the chlorine in the water. The pool at Hubbard Park has exactly the same machinery to take care of the water, except on a smaller scale because the pool is smaller. There are three new diving boards at Liberty Park, and new diving boards have also been installed at Hubbard.

The concrete around Liberty Park has begun to crack and it is planned to replace it and to extend it farther to give more room for the swimmers. Black stated he also will fence the pool for the little tots completely so that there will be no danger of them going over to the big pool.

The lagoon has always been a great attraction at the park. It is picturesque and the island is particularly pretty now with its red roses. Children love to go fishing in the lagoon, which is stocked with fish and so do grown-ups.

There are now live ducks on the lagoon, and the population of the park seems to be increasing otherwise, too. There is now a

Nitrogen Fertilizer Will Perk Up Lawn

How can you "perk up" that old lawn? University of Missouri extension home management specialists have a suggestion.

To get back that rich, green color, add nitrogen fertilizer to the lawn. Of course, this will work only if the over-all soil fertility is in good shape. This means you'll need to have soil samples checked to see if your lawn soil has the right fertility balance.

If this soil test shows fertility is all right, go ahead and spread some nitrogen fertilizer on top of lawn. About four to five pounds per 1000 square feet of lawn area should "green up" lawn grasses.

This word of warning, do not spread nitrogen while grass is wet. Fertilizer "burns" wet grass. Check with your county agent for more lawn care hints.

Knob Noster School Holds Commencement Exercises

Barbara Lane

Donald Kuhlman

The 68th annual commencement exercises of the Knob Noster High School were held Thursday evening in the high school auditorium when 32 graduates received their diplomas.

Dr. Harold L. Young, director, Division of Public Service at Central Missouri State College in Warrensburg, gave the address.

Baskets of peonies, iris and sweet rocket decorated the platform.

The graduates, wearing blue caps and gowns, entered as the school band directed by Mrs. James Scammon, played "Processional." Sue Kuhlman and Gary Kincaide, juniors, escorted the graduates to their seats.

The Rev. Harry Carmichael,

Rev. Williams Will Attend Seminary

By Mrs. M. R. Gillespie

BLACKWATER—The Rev. F. B. Williams, Concordia, preached his farewell sermon at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. Baptismal services were held for the three new additions to the church conducted by the Rev. William Sampson assisted by Rev. Williams. That evening Rev. Williams held a meeting for youth in Bible study. After graduating from the college in Warrensburg this semester, the Rev. Williams will continue his education at a seminary.

School closed in Blackwater Friday. Activities for the various grades were sight seeing trips. Grades 1, 2, 3, 4 went to Booneville; grades 5 and 6 spent a day visiting points of interest in Sedalia; grades 7 and 8 spent one day in Jefferson City.

Mrs. Mary Harris, field agent for Gulf Park College, Mississippi, left Monday for Phoenix, Ariz., for a visit with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Long. From there she will go to Glazier Park, Mont. where she will spend the summer as manager of the Rising Sun Chalet.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Marshall returned home Wednesday from Kansas City after attending the Missouri Bankers Convention.

Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Lueckert went to Liberty Thursday where they were among the guests at dinner at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Alley. The dinner was in honor of the Alley's daughter, Cammie Lou, on her birthday. The Lueckerts returned home Sunday evening. While away they also visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Lueckert, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Towe and Miss Jeanne Lueckert, Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lahmeyer were hosts at dinner Sunday to honor her niece, Kay Kramer, who was a member of the confirmation class, Evangelical and Reform Church, Arrow Rock. Beside the guest of honor present were the Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Krueger, Arrow Rock; George Henry Kramer, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hull, Booneville; John Kraenow, Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hull, Mr. and Mrs. George Kramer and family, Mrs. Ida Kottman, Miss Augusta Topel and Ben Kramer. Afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Williams and children, Sweet Springs.

Mrs. Ida Kottman who accompanied her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Al Sadie, St. Louis, on a southern sight seeing trip returned home last week. They visited in Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Price left Monday for a two weeks visit with their son, Clarence Price, and family in Texas. Mrs. Price's mother, Mrs. N. E. Bales, left at the same time for a visit with relatives at Cleveland, Okla.

Mrs. Joe McCuskey and Mrs. Raymond Holder, teachers in the Blackwater School No. 2, entertained a co-teacher, Mrs. Tommy Sits, with a cradle shower Friday afternoon at the school auditorium. Guests were mothers of the pupils of Mrs. Sits.

SP/3 and Mrs. Donald Doyle and little daughter, Diana, Dixon, Mo. returned home Sunday after a three day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Morris.

Garden Work To Continue From Now On

By Art Gaus, MU Extension Vegetable Crops Specialist

Do you have your garden planted? You should have, except perhaps for second and third plantings of beans and sweetcorn. Don't think for a minute, however, that you can now sit back and relax. The most important garden chores take place in your garden from now until harvest. The success you have with your vegetables will depend upon how well you perform these chores.

Let's take a look at some of these chores and how we might go about making them a little easier.

First of all, there is the matter of weeds. Surely as acorns grow on oak trees, weeds flourish luxuriously in gardens. Why shouldn't they? You are providing them with plenty of plant food and water! Get rid of weeds because vegetables should have access to all the plant food and water in the garden. So keep garden tractors and rotary tillers tuned up, and give your garden a good cultivation about once a week. Watch the settings on cultivators to be sure you are not cultivating too deeply. You may think you are doing a good job by churning up the soil three, four or five inches deep, but really you are just cutting off vegetable surface feeding roots. So except for the first cultivation after planting, just work the upper two inches of soil. No more! Let frequent, but shallow cultivation be your by-word.

The second chore you will need to perform in your garden from now until harvest will be the control of insects and diseases. It's almost a foregone conclusion that you'll have trouble with these in the garden this year. The only questions are: "Which ones?" and "How bad will they be?"

I'm sure you don't want to wait to find out the answers to these two questions, and you really don't have to. We have some excellent insecticides and fungicides that nearly solve the bug and disease problem.

For insect control use a combination of methoxychlor and malathion. The combination of these two materials is death on aphids, flea beetles, leafhoppers, cucumber beetles, bean beetles, cabbage worms, tomato worms, red spider mites and a host of other garden insects.

While you are spraying for insect control you might as well add a fungicide to protect vegetables from attack by foliage diseases. Such diseases as leaf blights, leaf spots, anthracnose, etc., can be troublesome in gardens not protected by a fungicide. It is easy to add a fungicide to your garden spray program. Use either zineb or captan, or a combination.

Be sure you get good coverage and use your insecticides and fungicides once a week. Direct spray materials on undersides of the leaf as well as on top. Spray once a week because the materials recommended, namely methoxychlor, malathion, zineb and captan, are effective for one week only.

Another important chore you

Soils, Crops Field Day At MU Tuesday

By WILLIAM MURPHY
MU Extension Field Crops
Specialist

Soils and Crops Field Day will be held at the University South Farm at Columbia Tuesday, June 2.

There will be a lot to see. If you are a farmer, or a businessman with an interest in farming, a dealer in farm supplies, a person who works with farmers, or have some other interest in farm progress — you should get ideas that will be of great value to you. What will there be for you to see?

Well, there will be weed control tests with many chemicals on corn, soybeans, and legumes. Every chemical that is thought to have possibilities in weed control in corn and soybeans is being tried. There are all different forms of 2-4-D being compared for pre-emergence use on corn. Simazin residue problems on crops that follow corn are being checked. Simazin, you know, is one of the chemicals that has looked so good in giving full season weed control in corn. Such chemicals as EPTC and Neburon for pre-emergence control of weeds in spring seedlings of alfalfa shows promise. Dalapon and 2-4-DB for post-emergence weed control in alfalfa and other legumes show real promise in helping establish lower cost stands.

The stops that you'll make on the soils portion of the field June 2 will let you examine several methods of minimum corn and sorghum tillage. You will see the effects of various soil treatments in establishing and maintaining alfalfa and alfalfa grass mixtures, also the results of top dressing legumes and grasses with different kinds of fertilizer. Then there will be trials on nitrogen fertilizer and limestone on corn yields. You will also visit plots showing the effect of using legumes and grasses ahead of corn, and influence of different kinds of rotations on crop production.

On the field crops side of the field you will see pasture experiments where beef animals are grazing various grass and legume mixtures. You will tour the variety tests of alfalfa, wheat, oats, and barley; where many different varieties are growing side by side under the same conditions. It will take about two hours

Mrs. Smith Wins Tri-color Award At Flower Show

Mrs. O. J. Smith, 1901 West Fifth, won the tri-color award which represents the most ribbons, at the spring Flower Show held Saturday by the Sedalia Garden Clubs in the floriculture building at the State Fairgrounds.

Mrs. Smith also won the sweepstakes for the artistic design division.

Mrs. Edward Brummet, 1401 East 14th, was the sweepstakes winner in the horticulture division and also won the award of merit for horticulture division on her iris, Jake.

The special Council ribbon to the Garden Club having the largest percentage of memberships exhibiting went to Garden Club No. 3.

The Junior Achievement Award went to Virginia Stumpf, 1000 West Tenth. The Junior Garden Club received an award of merit on its seed pod identity display. A special award of recognition went to each member of the club entering a corsage which were all so good that they were given honorable mention.

The judges, Mrs. C. Watkins, for you to tour the field crops side of the field, and two hours to see and hear about the soils department experiments. Members of the soils and crops departments conducting the experiments will be located at stops to explain each experiment and answer questions.

At the noon hour, 64 members of the student University Agronomy Club will serve lunch on the grounds.

Remember, the date of Soils and Crops Field Day is Tuesday, June 2. The time is 9:30 a.m. at University South Farm, one mile south of Columbia on U.S. 63 and 1/2 mile east on a gravel road.

S-Club Holds Banquet At Cafeteria

The spring banquet of the S-Club was held Thursday evening in the Smith-Cotton cafeteria with 150 members, candidates for membership and faculty present.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Charles Patterson, with invocation by Virgil Herrick.

The entertainment was provided by the Senior Girls Triple Trio of Smith-Cotton under the direction of Mrs. Carl Schrader, who sang a group of numbers. All of the girls in the Triple Trio were initiated into the S-Club at this meeting. They are Sandra Rossman, Pat Schreiner, Sheila Isgur, Linda Vedder, Michele Peabody, Beatrice Haggard, Sherry Stauffacher, Dorothy Chamberlin and Lynda Murphee.

The outstanding girl at Smith-Cotton this year, Pat Schreiner, and the outstanding boy, Melvin Brown, were each presented a $25 Savings Bond by the S-Club.

Other outstanding students selected by the committee on standards were recognized as follows: Vocal music, Joe Allen; instrumental music, Ronnie Carter; outstanding senior athlete, B. C. Poynter; athlete with the highest grades, Melvin Brown; and outstanding in debate, Ted Walch and Leroy Street.

There were 46 new members initiated Thursday evening, with Charles Patterson conducting the initiation.

The emblem of the club was explained by Jack Delph and the club colors by Bruce Ritchey.

T. J. Norris, superintendent of Sedalia's public schools, made a brief talk in which he stated that he was impressed by the way people here do things. He stated that when he first came, several people tried to tell him about various organizations and methods used in schools and about the S-Club, but he didn't pay much attention to it until he saw for himself. He went on to say he appreciated the interest and cooperation he had received.

Thursday evening the S-Club voted to raise the dues from 50 cents to $1 a year. In addition, it was decided to have an ice cream social on June 26, starting at 6 p.m., on the courthouse lawn. Members were asked to donate cakes and those who have not already signed up to give a cake may contact Virgil Herrick, who was appointed general chairman. Don Lamm, Jr., is in charge of the ticket sale.

The nominating committee was appointed for two years, with Kenneth Schreiner as chairman.

MONEY ON THE MOVE... THE INSURED SAVINGS AND LOAN WAY

What happens to the money put into savings accounts at FSLIC-Insured Savings and Loan Associations like ours is the dramatic story of money on the move.

This money, totaling more than $45 billion, is part of the life blood of business. Insured Savings and Loan Associations finance over one third of all home construction in America. This money provides jobs for carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, plumbers, plasterers and all other workers in construction—the nation's biggest industry.

But that's only the beginning! The materials for these homes come from hundreds of other industries—$670 million in wiring annually, $70 million in cement, over 11 billion board-feet of lumber, plus steel, glass, plaster and all other materials it takes to build homes. The production of these materials keeps hundreds of businesses humming and provides millions of people with income, some of which is returned to these Associations as savings.

Here is the cycle of money circulation on which prosperity depends. Money in savings accounts in Insured Savings and Loan Associations is money working for all business. Today more than 22 million Americans save at Insured Savings and Loans... and directly or indirectly nearly everyone in our country benefits from their thrift.

Last year alone Insured Savings and Loans paid out more than $1.4 billion in earnings to savers. Why not see us about this safe, profitable way to invest trust, pension, endowment, corporate and personal funds?

Green Ridge Presbyterian Circle Meets

Mrs. Glen Heck was hostess to the Martha Circle of the UPW, Green Ridge Presbyterian Church, Thursday afternoon, May 21, at her home in Green Ridge. The circle chairman, Mrs. Royal Ragar, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

During the business meeting the banquet for the Green Ridge Chamber of Commerce was discussed and the following menu committee appointed: Mrs. Charles H. Ward, Mrs. J. A. Gordon and Mrs. Glen Heck. The banquet will be served on Wednesday evening, June 3, by the Martha and Ruth circles.

Mrs. True Ulmer led the Bible lesson, "The Freedom of the Spirit," and Mrs. Nelle Ream presented the program, "The World-Wide Circle."

Mrs. Charles H. Ward will be the June hostess. Mrs. George Titsworth will have the Bible lesson and Mrs. Royal Ragar will have charge of the program study.

The meeting closed with prayer and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Earl Hinken, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Morris, was hostess to the Ruth Circle of the UPW, Green Ridge Presbyterian Church, Thursday afternoon, May 21, at her home southwest of town.

The circle chairman, Mrs. Hinken, presented Mrs. L. H. Wadleigh, who opened the meeting with prayer from the Year Book of Prayer program for fraternal workers in Ecuador and New Mexico.

Mrs. Wadleigh was also in charge of the Bible lesson, "The Freedom of the Spirit," and Mrs. Hinken presented the program, "The World-Wide Circle."

During the business session the ice cream festival was discussed and the members voted unanimously to help with the festival which will be church-wide for Sunday school and all people who attend the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church.

The Green Ridge Chamber of Commerce banquet was discussed and the Ruth Circle will help serve.

Mrs. Mattie Myers will be the June hostess and Mrs. Hinken will have charge of both the Bible lesson and the study program.

The meeting closed with prayer. Mrs. Henry Blalock was a special guest.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting by Mrs. Hinken and her mother, Mrs. Morris.

Mrs. Leon Morgan was hostess to the Esther Circle of the UPW, Green Ridge Presbyterian Church, Thursday afternoon, May 21, at her home east of Green Ridge.

The circle chairman, Mrs. Loy Smith, opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Gertrude Helman gave the thought to live by, "Two men looked out behind bars, one looked down into the mud and the other looked up to the stars." A lot depends on how we look at life.

Mrs. J. M. Palmer presented the Bible lesson, "The Freedom of the Spirit." She reviewed the 15th Chapter of Acts which was the background study for the lesson. Mrs. E. H. Boltz led the program, "The World - Wide Circle."

During the business session Mrs. Smith announced that the ## South Abell Observes National 4-H Sunday

National 4-H Sunday was observed by the South Abell Club at Flat Creek Baptist Church Sunday, May 17.

The call to worship was given by Richard Middleton and the hymn, "America, the Beautiful," was sung by all. The Lord's Prayer was recited in unison with Ronnie Hickam leading. Richard Middleton led the responsive Scripture reading. The hymn, "Fairest Lord Jesus," was sung and Ralph Thomas led in prayer.

Special music was "We've a Story to Tell" by Jane Hickam, Evelyn McFatrach, Sheryl Schneider and Monica Middleton, and "Open Up Your Heart" by Lynn Middleton, Stanley Bogon, Bobby Bohon, Billy Duensing, and Rodney Thomas. Evelyn McFatrach played a piano solo. Pledges to the Christian flag and the American flag were led by Harold Dean Franklin 11 and Billy Duensing. "What is 4-H?" was presented by Larry Schneider, and the 4-H Creed was given by Jane Hickam. The devotional service was based on improving family and community living and was presented by Evelyn McFatrach. The closing hymn was "Holy, Holy, Holy."

The pianist for the evening was Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

Dates Ahead

Tuesday night, June 2, County 4-H Junior Leaders Council Recreation Event, Beaman Arator Community Hall, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, June 4, County 4-H Dairy Judging, beginning at the Earl Wood farm at 9 a.m.

Monday, June 8, County 4-H Livestock Judging, beginning at Paul Stephens Farm at 9 a.m.

4-H Junior Leader

Blind Date Night

Are you 4-H Club Junior Leaders planning to attend Blind Date Night this Tuesday night? It will be held at the Beaman Arator Community Hall starting at 7:30 p.m.

There are 92 4-H Junior Leaders in Pettis County. This will be an opportunity to meet other 4-H teenagers your age.

County 4-H Camp

The Pettis County 4-H Camp will be held at Camp Bob White, Knob Noster State Park, Aug. 1-4.

As many as 140 may attend. This includes adult counselors.

One adult counselor per each ten campers may attend camp free if we reach our minimum quota of 100. If you are a leader or a parent would you consider going to camp with our 4-H boys and girls? For those clubs who have several going we more or less expect an adult or two to attend from those clubs. For those adults that can attend we are asking you to notify your community leader or the county extension office between July 6 to July 15. This is the same time that the 4-H members sign up to.

With two agents going there will be a possibility of twelve adult counselors going free. The exact number will depend upon the number of 4-Hers attending.

For those 4-Hers who wish to attend 4-H Camp, we will accept your name and your camp fee of $6.60 anytime from 8 a.m. Monday, July 6, to 5 p.m. Wednesday, July 15. Getting your name and fee in to go to camp will be handled on a "first come — first served" basis as in the past. The fee includes 25 cents for handicraft and 35 cents for accident insurance as well as for meals and lodging.

4-H Livestock Show
The Pettis County 4-H Livestock Show has been set for Friday, Aug. 14. It will be held at the Swine Pavilion at the State Fairgrounds.

From my visits to the 4-H club members with livestock and dairy projects, it looks as if this might be one of the best shows we have had in some time.

Two new awards are being offered this year, one by the Archias Seed Store in Sedalia and the other by the Shorthorn Breeders Association.

The Archias Seed Store is offering a 1/2 bushel of seed corn for the top entry in each of the following groups: Top small grain entry, top legume entry, top grass entry, and top corn entry.

A plaque will be given to top female Shorthorn animal. This is provided if there are as many as two female animals.

As in the past the Pettis County Farm Bureau has raised the finances for the Livestock Show. At the present time, the dairy and livestock committees of the Farm Bureau are asking various merchants and business men in and around Pettis County to buy a $6 ad. The ads will be placed in the Livestock Show catalog. The ribbons have been supplied by the Farm Bureau too.

The Main Street Drug will again give a trophy to the 4-H member exhibiting the top steer.

Workers at the Livestock Show are as follows: General superintendent, Paul Read and Cloyd Leftwich; swine, J. P. Dunham; assistant, and Forrest Reid; sheep, Cloyce Wilson; superintendent, and Elmer Bultmer; assistant, beef, Carl Raines; superintendent, and J. W. Raines; dairy, Cloyd Merk; superintendent, and Ralph Thomas; assistant, poultry, Mrs. Herbert Meves; superintendent, and Mrs. Dan Gordon; assistant, field crops, Virgil Ellis; superintendent, and Charles Williams; assistant; rabbits, Carl Wilken; superintendent, and Robert Welliver; assistant.

4-H Vegetable Bulletin
You 4-H members and leaders in a 4-H vegetable project will receive as 4-H Vegetable Bulletin this week in the mail. The bulletin was prepared by Art Gaus, extension horticulturist, University of Missouri.

Last year Mr. Gaus sent a bulletin of this type to you about every month during the summer. As far as I know, he will continue this policy.

Fire Safety Contest
Boys and girls wanting to participate in the Fire Safety Contest, should be making inspections now.

At the present time there are only six 4-H members from three to the extension office their interest in different clubs that have reported in being in this contest.

The Pettis County Mutual Fire Insurance Co. is again giving $50 to the winners as they have done in the past two years. Our agreement with them this year was that we were to have at least two 4-H members from at least five 4-H clubs to participate or the $50 in award money would not be presented. If you would like to enter the contest would you please contact the county extension office very soon.

Briefly here is what you need to do. (1) Contest is open to any 4-H boy or girl 14 to 20 years of age. (2) Boy or girl entering the program must inspect at least six farm buildings for fire hazards and record these on inspection report furnished. (3) List the fire hazards found, indicating hazards corrected, and methods used. (4) Prepare a scrap book including a short story (not over 1,000 words) on their experiences while making farm inspection.

Many Local Women Attend Reunion in Kansas City

A large group of ladies from Houstonia, Sedalia, Kansas City and other points in Missouri, were guests Saturday, May 23, of Mrs. Arthur F. Ross, 6738 the Paseo, Kansas City, at a reunion of girlhood classmates of many years ago. Virtually all of the guests were former classmates of Mrs. Ross when they all attended school in Houstonia, where Mrs. Ross was born and lived for a number of years until early in 1906.

The festivities started at 10:30 a.m., at Unity Farm, with a tour of the Unity buildings including the Campanile, where an observation platform at the top of the tower affords a complete view over all the more than 1,200 acres comprising the farm, with an extended panorama of Jackson County landscape for many miles in all directions. Then followed a visit to the beautiful rose garden that forms a part of the landscaped setting of the buildings, and a motor car tour of the farm.

Promptly at one o'clock the party was conducted to Unit Inn where luncheon was served at a long table especially prepared for the party.

Later the group adjourned by motor car to the Ross home in Kansas City where they were greeted by the clanging of the large iron bell that once was a fixture in the cupola of the first school building in Houstonia where they attended classes. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in reminiscences of their early school experiences, and inspecting girlhood pictures produced by various guests. Nostalgic memories of their childhood days were evoked by the clanging of the bell, which Mrs. Ross acquired after the old school building was abandoned in favor of a larger structure, after Houstonia became the center of a consolidated school district.

Late in the afternoon, a second dessert course was served. Guests present were: from Houstonia: Mrs. Vard Smith Higgins, Mrs. Virginia Sewell ck, Mrs. Neel Tuck Smith, Miss Ruby Tuck, Mrs. Lorene Tuck Higgins, Mrs. Trixie Wicker Rothrock, Mrs. Elma Welborn Morris, Mrs. Amos Rhinehart, and Mrs. L. P. Welborn.

From Sedalia: Mrs. Chris Egendorf, 1511 West 16th, and Mrs. Florence Hayworth (Louis) Butterwick, 315 South Hancock. From Hughesville: Mrs. Nell Williams and sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Williams.

From Columbia: Mrs. Ruby McClure Barton. From Macon: Mrs. Edna Morris (C. G.) Williams. From Marshall: Mrs. Edna Harris (Edward) Dorsey.

From Kansas City: Mrs. Celeste (Earl) Davis; Miss Marjean Sewell; and Mrs. George Roy Morris. Mrs. Rhinehart, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Welborn and Mrs. Morris were the only guests not former schoolmates of Mrs. Ross.

Mrs. Welborn is the widow of L. P. Welborn, who taught school in Houstonia for several years. Other schoolmates, invited but unable to attend were: Mrs. Emma Alfter McCluhan, 2409 Woodlawn Drive North, Mrs. Allene Sewell (Lewis C.) Scott, 705 South Barrett, Mrs. Lila Burl Porter (Harry) Sammons, 405 North Stewart, and Mrs. Minnie Lambeth (John) Pummill, 911 East Fifth all of Sedalia; Miss Florence Rothrock, Miss Georgia Upton and Mrs. Callie Wicker Killion, Houstonia; Mrs. Mattie Upton Burke, Kansas City; Mrs. Minnie Rothrock Hartman,

Willing Workers 4-H Holds Regular Meet

The Willing Workers 4-H Club met at Blackwater 100 School on May 18 at 8 p.m. Vice-president Cheryl Ann Wright called the meeting to order. Secretary Linda Sue Wilhite read the minutes of the April meeting which were approved as read.

The roll call was answered by each member giving a good safety rule.

The group voted to hold their next meeting on June 8 instead of June 15, and to have a skating party on June 15.

Observance of 4-H Sunday at Smith Chapel Church was announced.

Linda Sue Wilhite was named queen candidate for the Saline County 4-H Club Fair.

Larry Werneke and Roger Kurtz made reports on the woodwork project meetings.

Billie Lou Moore, Cheryl Wright, and Jean Anne Mitchell gave reports on Clothing I, II and IV, meetings respectively. Jean Ann also reported on the home grounds project meetings.

Wilbert Reinitz and Jimmy Clark gave reports on the tractor maintenance meetings. Refreshments were served by Paula Odil.

Mocksville, N. C., Mrs. Faye Tuck Stiles, Warrensburg; Mrs. Esther Montgomery Ramsey, of Muskogee, Okla.; and Mrs. Roma Upton Burke, Kansas City; Mrs. Williams (Joseph H.) Cashman, Ardmore, Okla.

Knob Noster Women Attend Clinton Meet

Mrs. Ray Baker and daughter, Kay; Mrs. Jack Thomas, Judy Wimer and Dorothy Lynde of Knob Noster, received degrees of the Grand Cross of Colors at the Masonic Temple in Clinton, Sunday afternoon. Also attending from Knob Noster were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Covey, Mrs. R. W. Dawes, Mrs. Merle A. Matthews, Ann Mendenhall and Louise Oldfather.

Horses can sleep either standing up or lying down. The Boston Tea Party took place on Dec. 16, 1773.

OBITUARIES

Walter H. W. Gerken
Walter H. W. Gerken, 59, 1009 South Merriam, died at the Bothwell Hospital at 12:20 p.m. Friday. He had been ill since last September and had been a patient at the hospital for the past eleven days.
He was born in Benton County, Mo., July 30, 1899, the son of the late Albert and Lena Goosen Gerken. He was married in Benton County Sept. 15, 1920, to Miss Clara Kreissler. They were the parents of four children. One twin daughter died in infancy.
Mr. and Mrs. Gerken lived in Benton County until 1928 when they came to Sedalia.

Until his health failed, Mr. Gerken had been engaged in farming most of his life.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Gerken; two daughters, Mrs. Sam Witt, 1001 East 20th, Mrs. J. A. Vinson, 517 East 27th; one son, Leonard Gerken, 508 East 16th; two sisters, Mrs. Herman Kreissler, Lincoln, Mo., Mrs. Alfred Schreiner, Sedalia; ten grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Funeral services will be held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Monday.

Burial will be in the Zion Lutheran Cemetery at Lincoln.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Joseph D. Wands
Funeral services for Joseph D. Wands, 81, of 223 East Howard, who died at Bothwell Hospital Thursday afternoon, were held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. Floyd T. Buntbach, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, officiated.
Mrs. T. E. Gasperson sang, "Take My Hand, Precious Lord" and "Will the Circle Be Unbroken," accompanied by Mrs. Mae Moser at the organ.

Pallbearers were James Gregory, William Jaekel, C. W. Marcum, Charles King, W. A. Lawson and Marvin Cole.

Burial was in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Walter W. H. Gerken
Funeral services for Walter W. H. Gerken, 59, of 1009 South Merriam, who died at Bothwell Hospital Friday afternoon, will be held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Monday. The Rev. E. H. R. Mueller, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church at Lincoln, will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Earl Wood, George Borchers, George Holman, L. R. Reed, Edward Harms and William Harms.

Burial will be in the Zion Lutheran Church Cemetery at Lincoln.

Mr. Gerken was born in Benton County Sept. 15, 1920, to Miss Clara Kreissler. They were the parents of four children. One twin daughter died in infancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerken lived in Benton County until 1928, when they came to Sedalia to make their home.

Until his health failed, Mr. Gerken had been engaged in farming most of his life.

He is survived by: His wife, Mrs. Clara Gerken; two daughters, Mrs. Sam Witt, 1001 East 20th, and Mrs. J. A. Vinson, 517 East 27th; one son, Leonard Gerken, 508 East 16th; two sisters, Mrs. Herman Kreissler, Lincoln, and Mrs. Alfred Schreiner, Sedalia; ten grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Funeral services for Paul Workman Sterling, who died in his sleep on May 26 at his home, 1606 West Seventh, were held at 2 p.m. Friday, at the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Mr. Sterling was born near Pleasant Green, Cooper County, Mo., on May 29, 1898, the son of James R. and Elizabeth Carlyle Sterling. He united with the Pleasant Green Methodist Church at the age of 15.

On Aug. 7, 1918, at Parris Island, S.C., he enlisted in the United States Marines and served as a private first class in Company B, 10th Separate Battalion, until he was honorably discharged at Charleston, S.C., on Jan. 27, 1920. He was a member of American Legion Post No. 16.

He is survived by: One daughter, Mrs. Pauline McCartney, Gloucester, N. J.; three grandchildren, Kelvin, Karen and David Courtney; two sisters, Mrs. J. W.

Hero Attacked By Two Thugs Beats Them Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Andrew Sambucini, 29, who earlier this week led in the capture of two alleged holdup men, Friday night fought off two thugs who tried to kidnap him.

Sambucini was just about to enter his Brooklyn apartment house when two men got out of a parked car. One man yelled "I'll teach you to be a hero." The second man brandished a gun and ordered Sambucini to get in the auto.

Sambucini lashed out at his would-be abductors. In the scuffle one shot was fired but he was not hit. However, Sambucini said, one of the men cried out, "I'm shot." With that, the pair jumped into their car and drove off with a third man at the wheel.

Sambucini notified police, who believe his assailants were friends of ex-convicts Anthony Marciano, 28, and Paul Urano, 30, charged with robbery and held without bail in an attempted payroll holdup which Sambucini thwarted last Thursday.

On that day, Sambucini, in his car, saw two men leap from an auto and grab a $1,000 payroll from a young woman on a Brooklyn street. Sambucini gave chase and forced the getaway car to the curb. Police then arrested Marciano and Urano.

Running Stop Signs Is a Fatal Habit

ROLLA, Mo. (AP)—Thomas H. Chadlock, 63, of St. Louis, got a ticket for reckless driving Friday. Less than two hours later he was dead. Police said his car ran through a stop sign into the path of two others.

At St. James, Mo., near Rolla, police said, he ran a stop sign and was fatally injured. A passenger in his car, Rose Virginia Hurt, 42, also of St. Louis was seriously injured.

Two occupants of the other two cars received minor injuries.

Four Persons Killed, Two Hurt in Collision

MARION, S. C. (AP)—Four persons were killed and two injured Friday night when their automobile collided head on with a tractor-trailer 10 miles west of here. Highway Patrol Sgt. J. A. Martin said the truck was northbound on U. S. 301 and made a left turn in front of the automobile, which was traveling south on U. S. 76.

Killed were James L. Cannon, 37; Ann Cannon, 40; Louise Cannon, whose age was unavailable; and Eutha Mae Lewis, 23, all of Mullins, S.C.

Red China Warning To US in Indochina

TOKYO (AP)—Red China warned today that events in Laos and U.S. activities in Indochina could have "grave consequences" for peace in Southeast Asia and the Far East.

Peiping radio broadcast the statements in a "warning to the reactionaries of Thailand."

There has been speculation that Communist China might create a crisis in Indochina to get a seat at any summit conference.

Mollett, Nelson, and Mrs. J. M. Long, 510 West Fourth; two nieces, Mrs. D. T. Weekley, Blackwater, and Mrs. Wayne Hill, Alexandria, Va.; one nephew, John Mollett, Cody, Wyo.; two grandnieces and one grandnephew.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Linus Eaker, and Miss Lillian Fox played organ selections.

Honorary pallbearers were Barney McMurphy of Warrensburg, Leslie Hale, E. W. Brown, Howard Anderson, Roy Kirchhoffer and Virgil Dieckhaus.

Burial will be on Monday in the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks, with full military honors.

Circuit Court

Lena Stoermer, Warsaw, filed a $25,000 damage suit against William Henry Blaine, 1101 South Lamine, in circuit court Friday for injuries sustained in a car collision Sept. 22, 1957, four and a half miles west of Sedalia on the 32nd Street Road.

Miss Stoermer was driver of one car in the accident and Blaine was driver of the other. The suit claims permanent injuries as a result of the accident.

B. H. Cole filed a suit in circuit court Thursday for $5,000 against Osker Lemon Greer, Route 5, Sedalia, for injuries received in a car collision Dec. 22, 1957, at the intersection of Highway 65 and county road "HH". The suit also calls for $600 for damages to Cole's car.

Daily Record

Accidents

A two-car collision occurred at 12th and Harding Streets at 4:21 p.m. Friday. There were no injuries.

Involved was a 1955 Plymouth, driven east on 12th by Mrs. Opal Johnson, 51, Route 2, Sedalia; and a 1949 Ford driven east by Dow Herschel Orr, 23, Kansas City. The left front of the Johnson vehicle was damaged while the right front side of Orr's car was damaged. Both cars were driven away under their own power. Both drivers were given summons to appear in police court on charges of careless and reckless driving.

A two-car collision occurred at the 32nd Street and Kentucky intersection at 7:15 p.m. Friday. There were no injuries.

Involved was a 1954 Ford driven west on 32nd by Ruth M. Heisterberger, 39, 421 West Broadway; and a 1953 Ford driven south on Kentucky by Melvin L. Orr, 22, 801 West Seventh.

The two vehicles reached the intersection about the same time and, according to Trooper Richard Joos, who made the investigation, the Heisterberger car struck the left rear side of Orr's car. The front of the '53 Ford was slightly damaged and the left rear of the '54 car was slightly damaged. Both were driven away under their own power.

Police Reports

Two horses were reported running loose at 521 West 24th, at 3:15 a.m. Friday. The owner was notified and got them.

Police were called to the 1100 block of West Third, at 10:30 p.m. Thursday where neighbors reported a party going on and the people making unnecessary noise. The revelers were told to quiet down.

A 1951 Ford, which had been parked at 1001 South Missouri for several days was towed to Howerton's service station at 3 p.m. Thursday.

The Harvey Implement Co. reported at 1:30 p.m. Thursday that a red and white bicycle has been left on their lot. The owner was located and picked it up.

In connection with a disturbance at the Club Lunch on West Main, Mable Wall, 932 East Third St., swore out a warrant charging Mary Ritter, no address given, with assault with a beer bottle. The disturbance was reported at 1:30 a.m. Friday.

At 10:30 p.m. Friday Henry Stamburger, 1419 North Osage, reported his 1954 Plymouth stolen from his home. He found it at 11:10 p.m. in the alley behind the Coffee Pot Cafe.

Mrs. Addison Taylor, 1120 Wilkerson, reported at 10:20 p.m. Friday that some lingerie hanging on her clothesline had been taken.

Fires In City

Firemen were called to Bunnie's Barbecue, 204 South Engineer, at 1:20 a.m. Saturday, to extinguish a blaze in the barbecue pit. There was no reported damage.

STILLNESS—Two-starred flag of the United Arab Republic is all that can be seen of the ill-starred pleasure steamer Dandara. The craft sank in the Nile River eight miles north of Cairo, Egypt, only a few yards from shore. Police say an exact death toll may never be established because it isn't known how many were aboard. More than 40 bodies were recovered.

Sen. Beall Says Some Heads Get Knocked

SHARPSBURG, Md. (AP)—Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.) said today the missile squabble among the nation's armed services may force Congress "to knock some heads together."

Beall, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee which has been reviewing the varied missiles programs, told a Memorial Day audience in a prepared speech: "We are now witnessing the sorry spectacle of the Army and the Air Force fighting publicly over whose antiaircraft missile is the better."

"And now the Navy makes it a three-way fight by saying that both missiles would be obsolete by the time they could get into production."

Four Nebraska Men Die in Plane Crash

YUMA, Colo. (AP)—Four Nebraska men died Friday in the crash of a single-engine plane into a field about 150 yards from a farmhouse, near the Nebraska border.

Louis Brezelton said he saw the plane smash into a treetop, rip through a powerline and then crash.

The dead were identified as Edward A. Myers, 34, believed to be the pilot; his son, Dean E. Myers, 23; John W. O'Neil, 34; and Gerald W. Weber, 23.

The plane did not burn. Brezelton said all were dead when he reached the scene.

homish, Wash., and Joyce Leigh Evans, 310 Poplar.

Robert Dale Brush, Kingston, Ill., and Lois Irene Fidler, Route 4.

Richard Wayne Mosier, 1412 South Quincy, and Doris Rae Sigman, 510 South Quincy.

Parks

family of squirrels and a family of possums.

The park superintendent has recently acquired something for the parks,—the miniature covered bridge that the Kiwanis Club used in a parade.

The entire Liberty Park offers a variety of entertainment, for athletic events, swimming, play equipment and rides for the kiddies, dancing, picnics, band concerts, wiener roasts, and a place for those who just love the beauty and restfulness of the big park.

The most beautiful park next to Liberty Park is Hubbard Park, with a nice swimming pool, ball diamond, play equipment, picnic tables, large trees and flowers. It is such an inviting spot that many tourists going by stop and eat their picnic lunches there. This year there will be more picnic tables in the park, and there are other plans for future improvement. There is a vast area at the back of the park that is a hollow. This being used at the present time by the city as a dump in an effort to fill it up. When it is filled it will be covered with dirt and leveled for additional ground that may be used for recreational purposes. One of these days, too, Black hopes to start a memorial rose garden in Hubbard Park.

Another park that is a delightful place and greatly used is Vermont Park. This park has natural beauty, like Hubbard, with huge trees, and through it runs a little stream. Three little bridges cross the stream, and there are eight picnic tables and four ovens, which are well used by Sunday School and church groups, clubs and just for private parties. There is a baseball diamond where the Little League plays, and nice play ground equipment. This park comprises five acres.

Washington Park, too, is a pretty and restful park and here as in Vermont Park many people in that part of town gather for picnics and wiener roasts during the summer and fall months. There has been a croquet court, but for some reason people stopped playing croquet there.

The tennis courts are grassy and not good, yet since the park does not belong to the city, but is leased for a dollar a year, the park superintendent feels that the large amount of money that would be required for good tennis courts should not be spent where it might not be permanent. One thing that this park does have, however, is excellent horse-shoe pitching grounds, and last year they drew many people to Sedalia for the horse shoe pitching tournament.

Housel Park and Center Park do not have the trees and the beauty of the other parks because of the small amount of ground on which they are situated. They both do have baseball diamonds, and playground equipment, and attract large crowds for games.

The last park acquired is Covered Bridge Park, and the park dept. has the cooperation of the Sedalia Water Department with that. The latter is working on it and plans to keep it up, while the park board is furnishing tables, benches, ovens and other equipment.

In addition, the park department also keeps the boulevard parkways on 16th, State Fair and Third, in good shape, which is a big job.

The Park board feels that Se-

Jaycees Prepare Second Annual Fowl Barbecue

The Sedalia Jaycees will add their contribution to the city's forthcoming Progress Week by winding it up with a big chicken barbecue beginning at noon on June 21.

This will be the second year the Jaycees have conducted this project, and the facilities have been improved on the basis of last year's experience. The popular outing, to be held at the Thompson-Greer Motor Co. building on West Broadway, last year had an advance ticket sale of 1,200 and a bigger crowd is expected this year.

For faster service, three barbecue pits are being constructed instead of one. Folding chairs and tables will be provided, there will be a concessions stand for soft drinks, candy, peanuts, and recorded music will be played.

The meals themselves will consist of a half-chicken, cole slaw, potato chips and iced tea or coffee. Jaycee-Ettes will assist with the serving.

Advance tickets are now on sale and may be procured from any Jaycee at a price reduced from that which will be charged on the day of the barbecue.

Pilot Identified As Admiral's Son

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—The U.S. Navy today identified the pilot of a twin-jet plane that crashed into the sea Friday as the son of a former commander of Yokosuka Naval Base. There was no trace of survivors.

Lt. Cmdr. Benton W. Decker Jr., son of retired Rear Adm. and Mrs. Benton W. Decker of San Diego, Calif., was at the controls of the Skyraider, carrying a four-man crew. It crashed near Iwakuni.

Others listed as missing and presumed dead, include:

Instructor-pilot Lt. J. G. Allen F. Dewitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert F. Dewitt, Long Beach, Calif.

Electronics technician Lawrence A. Coburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert L. Coburn, Bancroft, Maine.

Electronics technician Charles F. Stickels, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Stickels, Seattle, Wash.

Sedalia should be very proud of its park system which gives parks and play grounds in various areas of the town. It also believes there should be more parks, and there will be when the money is available to buy them and maintain them.

Tuesday's Spring Formal Sponsored by Senior Class

By Doug Shoemaker

One of the last social events of the year, the Spring Formal, was sponsored—free—by the senior class, last Tuesday, May 26. The dance began at 9 p.m. and lasted until midnight. Music was by the Bob Cummings Orchestra. Decorations, carrying out the theme of Spring, were pink roses, with background foliage.

In my last article a portion of the "Archives" staff was erroneously stated. It should have read "Business manager, Trudy Damm, assisted by Wayne Schupbach; advertising manager, Diane Sklar, assisted by Bill Heiss and Doug Shoemaker."

Also omitted in a previous article were the results of the Student Council presidency race. Next year (1959-1960) the Senior High Council president will be Ronnie Jones; vice - president, Richard Wertz. In the Junior High

Joyce Wischmeier Ad Diane Pagel Valedictorians

The valedictorians for the Lincoln High School class of 1959 are Joyce Wischmeier and Diane Pagel. The salutatorian was Juanita Roberts.

The high ranking students for the year by grades were Freshman, Bill McCandless; Sophomore, Jean Kreissler and Sharon Snider; Junior, Margie Schnakenberg; and Senior, Joyce Wischmeier and Juanita Roberts.

Awards of merit in various studies were presented to deserving students. Five students were presented certificates of recognition as student of highest scholastic promise among Missouri High School graduates in the class of 1959. Their high school record and outstanding score in the Missouri state-wide testing program were factors in selection of this honor. The students were Joyce Wischmeier, Juanita Roberts, Linda Kroenke, Lavada Dwyer and Donald Swearingin.

Scholarships to CMSC were awarded to Diane Pagel, Juanita Roberts and Linda Kroenke.

John Weathers Family Leaves For Houston

By Mrs. Ray Tegtmeyer

HUGHESVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. John Weathers and family have gone to Houston, Tex., for an indefinite stay.

John W. Parkhurst was entered in the races at Marshall Sunday night but had engine trouble. Among those who attended from here were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Martin and Joe Henry and Ray Tegtmeyer.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Das McClure were Judge and Mrs. Berry Elliott, Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cunningham. Hughesville School was out Saturday morning, May 16.

Mrs. Edith Weathers and sons spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lee at Ottaville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wess Grimes and Roll Bealert went to Excelsior Springs Sunday to see Henry Martin who is in the McCleary Clinic. They reported he is much improved.

Wess Grimes and C. M. Marshall went to Henrietta, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Fox and daughter have returned to their home in Ann Arbor, Mich., and Miss Mildred Rages has returned to her school in St. Charles. Both were here to attend the funeral of their father.

Friday night guests of Mrs. Charles Rages, Sr. were Mrs. Robert Fox and Gretchen, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Miss Mildred Rages, St. Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rages, Jr. and family, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barrick and family, Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Julian Fowler and family.

Young Extension Club In Monthly Meeting

The Smithton Young Homemakers Extension Club met May 14 and the roll call was answered by giving a household hint.

Work for the meeting was given by Mrs. L. Grupe, who also talked on "Farming in Norway."

Members of the club observed National Home Demonstration Week from May 3rd to May 9th, and were asked to do three things: pick up debris around the home, make and keep a litter bag in the car and plant an extra row of flowers in the yard or garden.

Mrs. Frank Griffin enrolled as a new member, and there was one guest, Mrs. Moon.

Fifteen members attended the meeting.

On June 18 at 1:30 p.m. the club will meet with Mrs. Eddie Seifert at which time the program will be "Home Management."

Chiefs Will Open Defense of BJ Crown Here Tonight

To Vie With Richmond
At 8 p.m.

Sedalia Chiefs open play and defense of their title in the Western Division of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League against Richmond tonight at Liberty Park. The game will get underway at 8 p.m.

John Thomas, out of the local baseball picture for several years, has returned this season and will pilot the Chiefs. He hopes to mold another title team this season, but isn't blessed with as much veteran talent as most Sedalia teams of the past.

The Chiefs have been a perennial power in the BJ loop. This year they'll be led by four outstanding veterans, but will lean heavily on the development of new talent from the area.

Clyde Kubli, tabbed as the starting hurler for the locals against Richmond, will carry the hill load. This is Kubli's fifth and final season in Ban Johnson competition. Last season he compiled a 9-3 record and finished with a sparkling 0.98 earned run average. When not hurling, Kubli often plays first and he finished with a respectable .289 average in 1958.

Charlie Newman, in his fourth season of BJ ball, is the finest ball hawk in the Western Division. The youthful centerfielder batted the ball at a robust .372 clip and led the loop in nearly every department last season.

Jim Swafford, a two-year veteran, is the other member of the veteran trio. The fiery second baseman is probably the finest defensive keystone man in the league. He also carries a potent bat. Last season he sailed along at a .318 clip.

Top prospects among the newcomers are Raymond Schnakenberg of Cole Camp and Bob Garrison, an all-Central Missouri Conference baseball selection at Smith-Cotton this spring. Both are infielders and are battling for the hot corner assignment.

The other top flight veteran is slick fielding Marvin Droege, a shortstop. Droege hit at a .274 clip last season, but was a stand-out on defense.

Manager Thomas has not made an announcement of the starting lineup, other than his starting hurler and the above named veterans.

Great High School, Miler to Attend KU

WICHITA, Kan. — Archie San Romani Jr., fastest schoolboy miler of all time, has decided to attend the University of Kansas, perennial Big Eight track and field champion.

San Romani, son of a great miler in his own day, made up his mind Friday. He graduated from Wichita East High School Thursday night.

San Romani ran a 4:10 mile last week in an AAU meet, although he was running in the event to a college man. It was the fastest ever turned in by a high school student.

It was revealed he received offers from 14 different schools.

The father, now a jeweler here and who competed at Emporia state college, said he did not influence the prep star in his decision.

Fugitive Since Last July

Alleged Underworld Boxing King Seized by Authorities

BERLIN, N. J. (AP) — Frankie Carbo, 54, an alleged underworld boxing king who had been a fugitive from justice since last July 24, was seized Saturday by New York and New Jersey authorities in a swank home in nearby Haddon Township.

State police Lt. Harry C. Armano said Carbo was seized as he attempted to flee out the back door. Also seized was Alfred Cori, 26, the brother-in-law of Frankie Carbo, a close associate of Carbo's who also has had run ins with the law.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John Mooney of New York County arrived here shortly before dawn and immediately began questioning Carbo behind closed doors.

Carbo was charged with being a fugitive from justice.

Asked if Carbo would waive extradition, Armano quoted him as saying that he would "leave that up to my attorney." Armano said that Carbo's bail would be very high. He did not give any specific amount.

Armano said the Carbo was being questioned extensively but that "he wasn't saying much."

The house, a two-story brick structure, was owned by William Ritka, whom police have been unable to locate. Officers did not have any background on Ritka.

12th American to Win Crown

Beman Beats Hyndman for British Amateur Golf Title

SANDWICH, England (AP) — Deane Beman, a 21-year-old University of Maryland junior, won the British Amateur Golf Championship today, defeating 43-year-old Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, 3 and 2 in the 36-hole final at the Royal St. George's Course.

Beman, who never has won a major tournament in his own country, thus became the 12th American to win the British championship. He succeeds Joe Carr of Ireland as titleholder.

The slightly-built collegian never was behind during the final match. He won the first two holes in the morning and fought off every challenge by the tall Philadelphia insurance broker to finish the morning round 2 up.

In the afternoon Beman again won the first two holes, going 4 up and stayed out in front until he closed out the match on the 34th hole after staying off a rally that cut his margin to 2 holes with 4 to play.

It was the fourth all-American final in the history of the British amateur and the seventh American victory in 13 championships since World War II.

The last American winner was Joe Conrad, who, like Beman, came to Britain as a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team and won the championship the first time he played in it.

Harvie Ward of San Francisco beat Frank Stranahan of Toledo in the last all-American final in 1952. Previously Stranahan had beaten Dick Chapman in 1950 and

Repairman Acts Quickly For Tigers

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — What did James Joseph Dykes, the old repairman of baseball, do to so quickly make the Tigers respectable?

"Not much," says Jimmie Dykes, who has been in the racket for 42 years, nearly all of it in the majors. "I kept Al Kaline in centerfield and put Charley Maxwell in left."

Dykes says he kept Kaline in center only because the Baltimore kid had played there just once due to the fact that Harvey Kuenn, the incumbent, had been struck rather severely on the arm by a pitched ball.

"Secretly," says Dykes, "I have wanted to see Kaline in center field for five years, or since I first saw him as a freshman. Until the other day, I had no right to order or suggest it. I never could understand why an outfielder with Kaline's speed, ball hawking ability and arm was kept cornered in right field. The situation would have been the same had he played left field. I couldn't figure an outfielder like him limited by a foul line."

Baseball immediately accepted Kaline, now only 24, as a stickout when in his sophomore year he led the American League in hits with 200 and batting with .340 as he manufactured 27 homers driving in 102 runs. While Kaline, who came into the business doing everything naturally, hasn't had what could be called a bad year since, he hasn't lived up to his early foot. And last season, when his home run output dropped to 16 and the runs-batted-in to 85 as he hit .313, people began to ask, "Will Kaline ever live up to the great expectations?"

When Dykes so suddenly and dramatically assumed command of a Detroit entry which had won only two of 17 games on May 3, the first thing he did was tell Kaline, "You are going to stay in center field. Run the other fellows the hell off any ball you think you can catch."

Kaline has been doing that since and enjoying himself batting .344. "He's been terrific," beams Dykes, "made some wonderful catches."

As Dykes explains, Al Kaline ever needed to be a big ballplayer was the showcase where he belongs in center field.

"Now that he has more opportunity to exhibit his truly remarkable fielding skill, you'll hear more

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

Congratulations to Bob Garrison, graduating Smith-Cotton senior on being selected to the Central Missouri Conference all-star team as the second sacker. Bob, the Tigers' leading hitter and steadiest gloveman, was the only Smith-Cotton man picked to the team which was dominated by Columbia and Jefferson City.

As followers of the Bengals' grid fortunes will recall, Garrison was the spark for Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow's crew last fall. He has excellent ability, but I think his greatest asset has been his tremendous desire. It has been several years since Smith-Cotton has produced an athlete with a greater will to win. He was also an all-CMC football choice.

Several colleges have indicated an interest in Bob. He plans to enroll this fall, but hasn't decided where he'll land.

The limit of Garrison's athletic participation at college will be largely determined by a bad knee which developed during football season. It kept him out of basketball during the 1958-59 season.

The Babe Ruth League Monday night is going to get that "Opening Ceremonies" under the belt if at all possible. That is, if the planned ceremonies don't fall on another night of rain. The season is on, the teams are playing, but the "official touch" hasn't been given yet.

As the plans are of now-and-rain isn't supposed to fall—Mayor Abe Silverman will take the mound. Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin will catch, and Jimmy Glenn will bat. That's the schedule and when the Mayor pitches the ball, Glenn either hits or misses, and Hamlin is ready to catch it if it is missed, and the season will opening.

The Little League is all set, planning on the opening, too, and they'll have a grand affair, just like the big boys. As a matter of fact, Little League has grown so tremendously in the past few years that this opening will be most colorful with all those 600-plus youngsters around for the first pitch.

Incidentally, Little League can still use a little adult help and anyone desiring to share in the summer fun can report to one of the officers of the organization and go to work.

It is really nice to learn the Missouri State Fair has actually recognized horseshoe pitching. Remember, it was deleted from the program last year, but it is back again this year with veteran Earl Winston, LaMonte, as the superintendent.

Prize monies of $362 are available and the State Tournament is coming back to Sedalia, but to be played at the fairgrounds. The preliminary pitching takes place on Friday, August 28, with the final fingers being made on Saturday, the 29th.

Really, it is a sport that should add much to the fair activities in that line. Winston already reports the entry list is expected to exceed any of previous years, either at the fair, or in other state meets.

Smoother Ride

Simple Spring Tune-up Adds to Boating Pleasure

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating

Distributed by NEA Service
How can you make your family boat go faster?

Simply by studying its present performance, says an experienced test skipper. Boats should receive a spring speed tune-up much the way your family car does—that's his contention—and with a little care you can do it at no expense.

The outboard boat owner will find do-it-yourself tuning-up easiest, although inboard and sailboat skippers will also benefit from re-check of their boat's operation at this time of year.

First, make sure the boat provides a level ride. Does the bow point up in the air and the stern squat down in the water? Driver and passengers may be sitting too far back; experiment with weight forward. Perhaps you should install a remote steering wheel nearer the bow to improve balance.

Does the boat tend to "porpoise," lifting the bow from the water and then dropping back over and over like a seesaw? Proper weight distribution, motor angle and speed selection can help correct this.

Try raising or lowering the outboard motor slightly on the transom until you find the spot where you get the most speed under way without the propeller coming out of the water and over-speeding—"cavitation" the experts call it.

Every outboard hull that is designed for planing will have one position where the motor runs just deep enough in the water for maximum performance. Here even one-eighth of an inch in height where the motor is clamped can make a great difference. Racing drivers make additional adjustments according to whether the water is rough or smooth.

Small changes in the trim of your boat and weight distribution make it possible for you to get better speed and enjoyment from the boat, and go farther on the same amount of gas.

"Give this club a little hitting at first base and some relief pitching and we'll stir up trouble all the way along the route."

"The Yankees?" says Jimmie Dykes. "Now they know how the other seven have lived, and I'm enjoying it as much as anybody else."

4 Sedalians Lead CMS Mules To an 8-5 Baseball Record

Central Missouri State College of Warrensburg today released statistics for the 1959 baseball season. Results show four Sedalians, all Junior Legion and Ban Johnson products, rating at the head of the list.

The Mules ended the season with a record of 8 wins and 5 losses under the management of Coach Floyd Reese and his assistant, John Kitcha.

Larry Mines, a top flight catcher for many years in this area, led the Sedalia hitters with a bulging 405 average. Mines collected 17 hits in 42 times at bat and finished second in the runs-batted-in department. Eight of his hits were for extra bases. Larry, the only senior in the group, co-captained the team and received his fourth varsity letter.

A Unique Race Scheduled Tonite At Marshall

A unique race is scheduled tonight at Sportsman's Speedway in Marshall when cars of any and all classifications vie for a $1000 guaranteed purse. Time trials will commence at 7:30 p.m.

Normally, the drivers of the Central Missouri Racing Association occupy the spotlight at Marshall on Sunday night. This week, however, the open competition will throw aside the rule that "anything goes that doesn't show" on the engine and the well known "doodle bugs" of Kansas City will go against the best in the CMRA in 35 laps in the feature event. The doodle bugs are usually powered by engines with every gimmick in the books. Often they carry six carburetors and sometimes the engines are foreign makes.

Many consider "open house" as the championship of racing on Missouri tracks. In the past, the drivers of the Central Missouri Racing Association have bested their city rivals in the all-out competition.

Western Auto, Phillips 66 Win In Babe Ruth

Western Auto battered Anderson's Air Conditioning and Phillips 66 crushed Adco, Inc., in the Sedalia Optimist Club's Babe Ruth League at Liberty Park Friday night.

Fletcher Gravitt fanned seven and allowed only three hits in hurling Phillips 66 to a 12-3 triumph. The Oilers got off to a fast start, piling up a 6-0 lead in the first two innings. Adco didn't score until the fourth when Art Wiggins slammed the first homer of the Babe Ruth season.

Dave Wilhite spun a one-hitter for Western Auto in an 8-1 victory over Anderson's. Tim Morgan spoiled the right-hander's bid for a no-hit shutout in the fourth when he batted out a double, took third on a sacrifice and stole home. Western Auto collected only three hits, but five walks and three errors opened ample scoring opportunities.

Let someone drive your boat at speed while you watch and see if it is giving a level ride. This can be useful with bigger inboard powered craft and sailboats as well.

Does the boat tend to "porpoise," lifting the bow from the water and then dropping back over and over like a seesaw? Proper weight distribution, motor angle and speed selection can help correct this.

Try raising or lowering the outboard motor slightly on the transom until you find the spot where you get the most speed under way without the propeller coming out of the water and over-speeding—"cavitation" the experts call it.

Traveler Must Spend $16,800 In Ten Years

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A 74-year-old widow from South Africa arrived in England today saying she wishes she didn't have to spend 6,000 pounds—$16,800—roaming the globe.

Adelaide Young, probably the world's most reluctant tourist, just wants to stay home in Johannesburg.

But the money was left to her by an old friend, Francis Melville, on condition she spend it all on travel in the next 10 years.

Melville died last year after a lifetime of world travel. He ordered that the money be donated to South Africa's ruling Nationalist party if Mrs. Young didn't spend it going around the world.

"That was an added incentive for me to travel," she said. "You see, he didn't like the Nationalist party."

"I have never been out of South Africa before," she said. "I'm not keen on traveling."

Her itinerary for the next five months includes tours of England and Scotland visits to almost every country in Europe. Her lawyers are arranging for her to visit Australia next.

"Later I suppose I might go to the United States," she said gloomily.

RODEO STARS—Slim Pickens, Casey Tibbs, and Tex Williams, (left to right), are the stars of the 1959 J Bar H Rodeo to be held in Camdenton, Mo., July 4 through July 11.

J Bar H Will Have Three Great Stars

The eighth annual J-Bar-H Rodeo in Camdenton July 4 through July 11 is to feature not one, not two—but three colorful stars, each of whom is nationally famous in his field.

The three stars of the 1959 Camdenton rodeo are Casey Tibbs, cowboy-favorite of young and old; Tex Williams, Hollywood, Calif., who became well known for his version of the song about "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke (That Cigarette)," and Slim Pickens, rodeo clown and star of movie and television productions.

Casey Tibbs is rated by many as the greatest saddle bronc rider of all time. He got his start breaking wild horses for his rancher father while still a school boy, and since has mastered some of the most feared broncs alive. In addition to making special appearances at Camdenton, Casey will compete in the saddle bronc contests. He is currently engaged in an all-out scrap for the 1959 saddle bronc championship, and how he does at Camdenton could easily determine the outcome.

The genial Tex Williams is a versatile man. In addition to being a successful singer and band leader, he is a noted songwriter and television star. Tex won a permanent berth in the musical hall of fame with his million-seller "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke (That Cigarette)," in a class with Rex Allen and Roy Rogers—a real winner who is loved by folks of all ages.

Although he has won renewed fame within recent months as a Walt Disney production star, Funny-Man Pickens will be engaging in his first love at Camdenton next July. Slim still loves to fight bulls in the rodeo arena best of all, and he's slated for plenty of action in this dangerous pastime at Camdenton. Along with Casey and Tex, Pickens will make a special personal appearance during each performance of the big 1959 J Bar H Rodeo.

Season Looked Bare

Killebrew Was Furnished With Proof He Had Arrived

By JOHN MORRISSEY
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Before the season's start, the Alexandria, Va., apartment of the Harmon Clayton Killebrews was pretty bare.

"We didn't bother furnishing it," said Eileen Killebrew. "We didn't know whether we'd be around very long."

A furniture dealer felt more secure about Washington's biggest drawing card since Walter Johnson, especially as Harmon Killebrew continued swatting home runs, making a habit of belting two in a game. He furnished the Killebrew apartment from carpet to refrigerator.

Killebrew was up for his fifth chance, and while he manufactured 17 home runs in 86 games with Chattanooga, there was considerable doubt about his remaining even with an outfit as lowly as the Senators.

Cookie Lavagetto had a hand in first teaching young Killebrew how to field and even throw, for he threw like a girl when he first came around at 18. The manager wasn't so keen about playing the broad-shouldered, barrel-chested 195-pounder. It was at President Calvin Griffith's suggestion that he did.

Killebrew's only previous experience prior to reporting to Griffith Stadium was with the Payette, Idaho, Packers, a none too fast semi-professional team, and the bonus rule forced Charley Drensen, then the manager, to suffer with the lad for two years.

Killebrew has the distinction of being the only Senator ever scouted and recommended by a Senator, the late Herman Welker of Idaho.

Senator Welker would sit in his box at Griffith Stadium and ride Drensen.

"Why don't you use my boy?" he would shout.

"Listen," Drensen once retorted, "you run the United States

Expensive Shoes Don't Suit Weight Thrower

BOSTON — (NEA) — A stop-gap turned into a saving in money and a boost in performance for Boston University weight men.

For several years, Ed Flanagan's Whales have worn the best possible footwear, $25 ballet-type slippers which had to be replaced at least twice a year. When the current batch wore out, they were replaced temporarily with inexpensive tennis sneakers until more slippers arrived.

The weight men, hammer thrower John Lawlor, discus thrower Eino Keerd and shotputter Larry Cafarella agree, however, that they are getting better performance from the $1.98 sneakers than from the expensive ballet slippers.

While wearing the sneakers, Lawlor established a new national hammer mark and Keerd bettered his personal record.

The sneakers, they say, give the feet the utmost freedom.

Neighbors, Friends Plant Goodwin Crop

When Marvin Goodwin, Route 2, entered Research Hospital in Kansas City several weeks ago, he was worried about his spring planting. But he shouldn't have been worried — his friends and neighbors took care of that.

Last week men, tractors and other equipment arrived at the farm, and in one day some 63 acres of corn were planted, the garden plowed and about 25 new acres were plowed. There were 11 tractors at work at one time.

A delegation of people from Smithton, William J. Lamm, William Green, George Green, Matt Green, William Sawford, George Jaeger and George Griffin, as well as Bill Pittman, Jack Curran, John Knaus and John Sneed, nearby neighbors, were responsible for the work.

LaRock-Atlas First Bout Here Tuesday

TUESDAY'S WRESTLING Main Event No. 1—Gorgeous George, 240, Hollywood vs. Dano McDonald, 238, Phoenix. (Best two of three falls; 60-minute limit.) Main Event No. 2—Cowboy Bob Ellis, 238, El Paso, Texas vs. Chief Red Cloud, 244, Anadarko, Okla. (Best two of three falls; 60-minute limit for Central States championship.) Women's Match—Kathy Starr, 143, Tucson vs. Judy Glover, 138, St. Louis. (One fall; 20-minute limit.) Opening Event—Mighty Atlas, 236, Hollywood vs. Jim LaRock, 228, Ithaca, N. Y. (One fall; 15-minute limit.)

Jim LaRock is a name that is fast gaining respect throughout the professional wrestling field. LaRock will be among contestants on the four-match program at the Armory next Tuesday night.

The former Ithaca College (New York) standout will meet Mighty Atlas in the opening event of a card that offers one of the most star-studded rosters of any held in Sedalia this season.

In addition to the LaRock-Atlas scrap, three other big bouts are set. Cowboy Bob Ellis, a fan favorite here, will answer the challenge of Chief Red Cloud, Gorgeous George will make a rare appearance here against Dano McDonald, and a women's match will pit Judy Glover against Kathy Starr. LaRock, called the greatest leg wrestler in the pro ranks although he's a comparative novice, is a former Olympic team member, two-time national AAU champion, and proud possessor of a host of other amateur crowns.

The 228-pound New Yorker is single and has no immediate prospects in the marital field. A pro only five years, LaRock has made a name for himself with his scientific style of grappling. The 28-year-old, who has wrestled since his high school days, is a master at the abdominal stretch, a hold that calls for tremendous leg power. This he has and this he puts to good use.

In four collegiate seasons LaRock was never defeated. His fine amateur background has served him well as a pro. Everywhere he goes he studies the measures used by other top wrestlers and is prepared by the time he's named as an opponent for one of them.

LaRock attributes his tremendous leg power to hiking, swimming and golfing. He trains regularly to keep in peak form.

He'll have to be at his best to handle the likes of Atlas. The Hollywood powerhouse generally is recognized as one of the strongest men among the pros and knows how to use his strength to best advantage.

Those entered are Jamie Anderson, Raymond Dickie, Jack Benner, Terry Lee and Marcia Faig, Charley Patterson, Clarence Underhill and Bill Rayburn.

Chairman John Hays said Thursday was the deadline for registration.

Business Can Be Fantastic, Stooges Find

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Here's evidence of how fantastic show business can be: The Three Stooges are starring in a feature movie.

A year and a half ago, the Stooges were finished, washed up. They had come to the end of a record stand of 24 years at Columbia Pictures making shorts. Their knockabout comedy was considered passe, the market for short subjects had vanished.

The Columbia subsidiary, Screen Gems, released the first batch of old Stooge comedies to TV. Wham! The Stooges, a show business team for a third of a century, found themselves at the height of their fame.

When they were making shorts, they earned $70,000 from the filming and picked up an equal amount on personal appearances. This year they are already guaranteed a $275,000 gross, and the figure may go much higher.

The boys have returned to Columbia, but not to make shorts. They are filming "Have Rocket, Will Travel," their first feature as a starring team. Back in the '30s, they appeared with their old boss Ted Healy in some MGM movies. And more recently they have done some quickie musicals.

Moe is the leader of the Stooges. He's the one with the black bangs. Larry Fine has the operatic hairdo, and Joe DeRita is the fat one who takes most of the knocks. He was preceded in his post by Moe's brothers, Curly and Shemp, both now deceased, and comic Joe Besser.

"It's fantastic, what has happened to us," Moe mused. "We've got more offers than we can handle. Now we're doing all kinds of merchandizing—hats and other things with our faces on them. We've got an advance from a bubble gum outfit that is bigger than they gave the entire National League!"

Eight Sign to Play in Junior Golf Tourney

A field of seven boys and one girl have registered to play in the Jaycee-sponsored Junior Golf Tournament to begin at the Country Club Golf Course Monday at 9 a.m.

The tournament is for youngsters under 18 years of age. The winner of the local tourney will be eligible to enter state competition at Trenton, June 25-26. The state winner will go on to national competition in August.

Those entered are Jamie Anderson, Raymond Dickie, Jack Benner, Terry Lee and Marcia Faig, Charley Patterson, Clarence Underhill and Bill Rayburn.

Chairman John Hays said Thursday was the deadline for registration.

Let's Talk Gardening

New Dwarf Hardy Asters Add to Late Fall Garden

By MRS. AL SCHREINER
Sedalia Garden Club

Winter, hardy and dependable all describe the new dwarf hardy asters. If this perennial is still a stranger in your garden, the reason is probably that you remember the old-fashioned type that grew like a shrub — sometimes to six feet, lost all its leaves half-way up the stems, and then would get so top-heavy that no stake would hold it. These have been replaced with the dwarf hardy aster. As the dwarf types make compact little bushes, ranging from six to 18 inches, their uses in the landscape are innumerable.

Although the purpose of each plant is to add color to the early fall garden, the deep green of the foliage is an asset to the border all summer long. A small shoot planted in front of a clump of blooming spring bulbs in no time hides the unsightliness of the bulb's dying foliage. This is also true of Oriental poppies and madonna lilies. By planting six inches apart, the dwarf types such as "Little Blue Boy" can be used to form dense little hedges around the garden or along walks and drives. Can also be used in pots or window boxes.

The smaller plant, the quicker it will re-establish itself. Plants moved late in the season are in danger due to the fact that not enough time is allowed for them to anchor themselves firmly in their new position, and they may very easily be heaved out of the ground during fluctuating weather causing the roots to dry, killing the plant.

Hardy asters need no winter protection. They always come through. Although division can be put off for two or three years, the plant will be taller than the previous year. If height is important where they are planted, it is best to divide each spring. Take shoots of outer edge and remove center of clump.

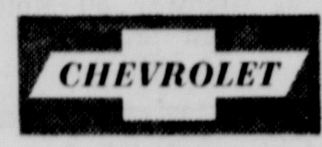

Fertilizing is not necessary in good garden soil, a handful of 5-10-5 worked in around the plant twice during the growing season helps boost it to larger display. These plants are almost entirely pest-free. If, during humid weather, you happen to find a little mildew, dust them with sulphur applied once a week, early in the morning, for two weeks.

The flowering period for the aster ranges from mid-August to the end of October. A planting of tall yellow marigolds, bordered by deep blue "Canterbury Carpet" 10 inches in height, would be striking. Or try delicate "Lavender Mist," eight inches tall, surrounding a bed of pink and rose zinnias. Late blooming varieties such as the beautiful wisteria blue "Bonnie Blue" (ten inches) or lovely new "Rose Serenade" (12 inches) which is truly a beauty with its large gold center cushion surrounded by shimmering rose-pink petals, would be a welcome sight intermingled with rust and copper-toned mums. White is always a welcome addition to any garden, and the dwarf hardy aster has that too. The finest variety is "Snowball" (ten inches). Neat and compact, it comes into bloom early in September, and is truly an outstanding sight well into October. Some tall varieties from Grandma's day are "Harrington's Pink," "The Bishop," and "Survivor" are among the better reliable varieties. Care must be taken to place them where their height (four to six feet) will not obstruct smaller perennials. However, by pinching, such as is done with chrysanthemums, can keep down height. All pinching should be discontinued by the first of July to allow the plant to produce its buds in time for blooming.

OTHER LOW-PRICED CARS WOULDN'T BE LOW PRICED IF THEY HAD WHAT CHEVY HAS!

Model for model the leading low-priced three are pretty close together on cost. But—when you start figuring what you get for your money—Chevy parts company from the other two in a hurry. Look over the list of Chevrolet exclusives below, then estimate how much they're worth to you. We'll leave it to your own arithmetic. How long would the other two be in the low-price field if they gave you what Chevy does?

SAFETY PLATE GLASS IN EVERY WINDOW This extra's a real eye-saver. Chevy's the only low-priced car that gives you Safety Plate Glass—not just Safety Glass—all around. $	CRANK-OPERATED VENTIPANES Ever try to open a ventipane without this little convenience? Then you know what fingernail-savers those cranks can be. $	HYDRAULIC VALVE LIFTERS You won't find another low-priced car that gives you this oil-hushed assurance of smooth, quiet performance on all standard engines. $	OVERHEAD CURVING WINDSHIELD And here's a neck-saver, especially for looking at overhead traffic lights. Chevy's got greatest overall visibility area in its field, too. $
GREATER ROOMINESS More seating room than any other low-priced car. And more front seat head room than any other low- or medium-priced sedan. $	BIGGEST BRAKES IN THE FIELD Chevy's new brakes are built for up to two-thirds longer life. There's more lining area than on many heavier, higher priced cars. $	FULL COIL SUSPENSION Take a trial ride before you put a price tag on this. No other leading low-priced car cushions you with coil springs at all four wheels. $	HIGHER RESALE VALUE Consistently highest of the leading low-priced three. Right now '57 Chevies are averaging up to $128 more in the used car market. $

NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Maplewood Better Home Club Meets

Maplewood Better Homes Club held its May meeting at the Community Hall with members of the South Abell Club and the Smithton Club as guests.

Mrs. Ed Heffernan, president of the Maplewood Better Homes Club called the meeting to order and Mrs. E. E. Barrick, president of the South Abell Club introduced her members and Mrs. William Schutt, president of the Smithton Club, introduced her members.

A contributive dinner was served at the noon hour.

The devotional, inspirational for Mother's Day, was given by Mrs. Golder Lutgen of the Smithton Club, and was followed by prayer.

The varied roll calls were interesting, Smithton on "My Graduation Dress," South Abell, on "How I Take My Rest" and Maplewood, on "My Favorite Perfumed Flower and Current Events."

In observance of Music Week Mrs. Luther Landis reviewed many interesting incidents in the life of Stephen Foster.

Mrs. Ralph Thomas of South Abell led all in spirited singing.

Mrs. Zimmerman's letter on "Decisions" was read by Mrs. Walter Rissler.

The clubs reported on funds for the scholarship fund and Miss O'Brian said the committees reported favorably on one application for a freshman agriculture student to Missouri University, the name to be released at his high school graduation.

Miss Opal O'Brian was guest speaker for the afternoon taking as her subject: "Wash Day News, Not Blues." She demonstrated how to test water for hardness, told the good and not so good points in different soaps and detergents, hot and cold starch to be used and in bluing. Also, she gave a recipe for homemade soap. The meeting closed with a game in charge of Mrs. R. Thomas.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Carl Landes, Rt. 2.

WEST POINT GRADUATE—James J. Satterwhite, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Satterwhite, 1016 Wilkerson, will be graduated June 3 from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. Satterwhite will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Engineer Corps and will receive a bachelor of science degree. At West Point he was active in the dialectic society, a theatre group, and the French, model airplane and radio clubs. He was a member of the staff of KDET, the academy's radio station. Appointed to the academy by Senator Stuart Symington, Satterwhite was a cadet captain during his senior year. He was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1955.

Both May Be Ineffective

$8 Billion for Developing Rival Anti-Aircraft Missiles

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Here's where taxpayers can see how billions of dollars of their money are going down the drain. Right now, the defense Department has plans for spending over eight billion dollars on rival methods of protecting the U.S. against Russian bombing planes.

That spending is programmed for the Air Force's anti-aircraft Bomarc missile system and the Army's anti-aircraft Nike-Hercules system.

These are the two missiles over which the big fight is raging now in Congress and in the Pentagon.

One group argues both systems are necessary. Others claim Bomarc duplicates Nike-Hercules so closely that one should be abandoned in favor of the other.

Neither system is worth anything against intercontinental ballistic missiles or even against short-range ballistic missiles fired from Russian submarines.

Yet by the time these systems are fully operational—with the needed radar and communications systems in place and the bugs taken out it will be well into 1961.

By 1961 the chief threat to the defense of the United States will be ballistic missiles, not bombers. According to the best intelligence estimates the Russians are not building a big intercontinental bomber force.

There's even some strong questioning on how good either system would be against Russian bombers.

Any Russian bomber raid—say in 1960—is likely to be with Hound Dog type of airborne missile fired 400 or 500 miles from target. The Army's Nike-Hercules wouldn't reach that far.

When they move into position to fire their missiles, the Red planes are expected to push up to an altitude of over 100,000 feet. Bomarc missiles won't reach that altitude.

Furthermore, the Bomarc guidance system is tricky. It's worked well in tests. But there's a great deal of doubt as to how reliable it would be against a hundred or more bombers using decoys like the Quail missile, electronic gadgets to confuse U.S. radar and modern jamming tactics.

Nike-Hercules

The Army's Nike - Hercules (right) aims only at defending selected strategic targets in last-ditch stands.

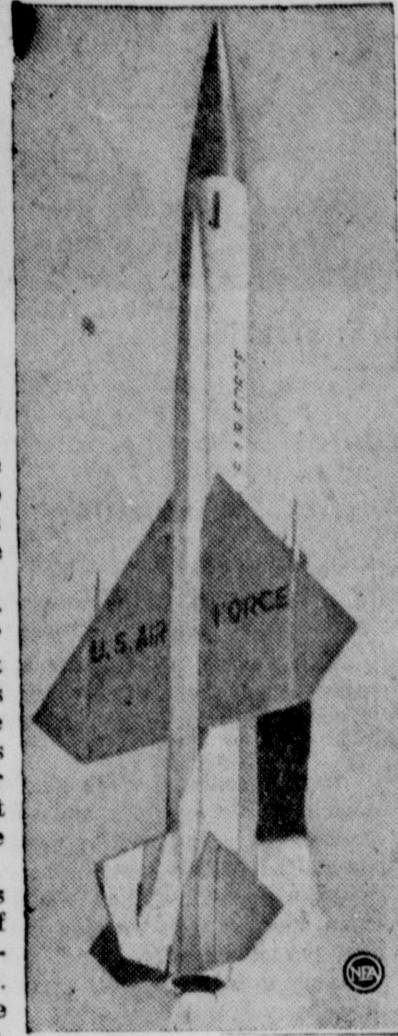

Hercules' range is about 80 miles. It has a speed of 2,000 miles an hour. And probably it can hit an enemy plane at around 120,000 feet. Like the Bomarc, it carries a nuclear warhead.

Army men say the Hercules is essential for shooting down those Russian planes that get through the Air Force's defenses — the planes that outmaneuver the Bomarc or the 400-mile missiles with decoys and electronic "twists."

Why not just add on more Bomarc batteries to do both jobs? Army men say that would cost too much. A Hercules missile is priced at $70,000, a sixth the price of a Bomarc. The Hercules system — since it will take over old Nike-Ajax bases — will cost only a fraction as much as the Bomarc system, they claim.

Army men also claim Hercules has a simpler, more fool-proof guidance system that "takes advantage of" human intelligence.

Though Hercules missiles are already installed at 30 batteries, they're using short-range tracking and guidance systems in the main. Pentagon officials say it will be two years before the new Hercules systems are completely installed, checked out by experienced troops prepared to do a real job against Red bombers.

Girl Scout Notes

Intermediate Troop 17 of Horace Mann School met Monday, May 25. The meeting was opened by Harriet Yessen, and led by five girls who are working on their Speaker Badge. The meeting was conducted by parliamentary procedure and lasted nearly three hours. The girls were Ann Murrell, Joyce Cairer, Nancy Menefee, Josephine Dickey, and Makay Silverman.

D. McPherson To Braniff Airlines

By T. W. Miller
TIPTON—Mr. and Mrs. Dean McPherson left Sunday for Minneapolis, Minn., where Dean has accepted a position with Braniff Airlines. He had lately been a student at Aero Mechanics School in Kansas City. Mrs. McPherson had been connected with the KCMO broadcasting station.

Sunday afternoon Kathy Yontz celebrated her ninth birthday with a party given in her honor at her home. Those present were the girls of her class: Jackie Frank, Delores Yoest, Julie Koergenmeier, Maureen Knipp, Nancy Lutz and Mary Hainen. Kathy McDonald was unable to attend. The afternoon was spent playing games and dancing. After Kathy opened her lovely gifts, refreshments were served the guests. Everyone departed wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Seventeen little classmates and friends of Jimmie Geiser's attended a birthday party given for him at his home on Sunday, May 17. Those attending were Wayne Eichberger, Julius Fricke, Leonard Geiser, Gilbert Hake, John Klass, Bruce Lutz, Daryl Petree, Keith Schuster, Ronald Wolf, Bill Veulemans, Danny Yoest, Gary Milligan, Delores Geiser, Patrick Elmlinger, Joseph Brandel, Marty Lademann and Kay Kammerick. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. C. A. Coley and daughter, Drexel, and Gene Hoff, Columbia, were guests Saturday in the home of Mrs. H. F. Dahl.

Bob Fry, owner of farm land near Tipton, has purchased the Dixel Service Station at the Tipton Highway Junction from Van Medlin, who is operating his gravel trucks.

Fifty-eight families were represented at the Country Club covered dish supper Sunday. The swimming and wading pools will be opened Memorial Day, May 30, and the golf course is also ready. Recovering nicely from a kidney stone operation is Mrs. V. V. Gage who resides at the family farm seven miles southwest of Tipton. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Helms and sons, Jimmie and Jerry, were in Kansas City Sunday, the firm they represent, Western Auto, having Christmas and other merchandise on display at the American Legion building in that city.

Dr. Geiger Attends Optometric Meeting

Dr. Lawrence S. Geiger, Sedalia optometrist, was one of approximately 100 optometrists who participated in a midwest-regional Post Graduate Institute at Drake University, Des Moines, May 24-25. Participants from nine states were in attendance at the two-day parlay. The Institute was co-sponsored by the American Optometric Association and the Drake University Community College.

Bomarc

The Air Force's newest version of the Bomarc (right) has a range of over 400 miles. It can be fired rapidly Air Force men say a squadron of over 32 missiles can be fired in 30 seconds.

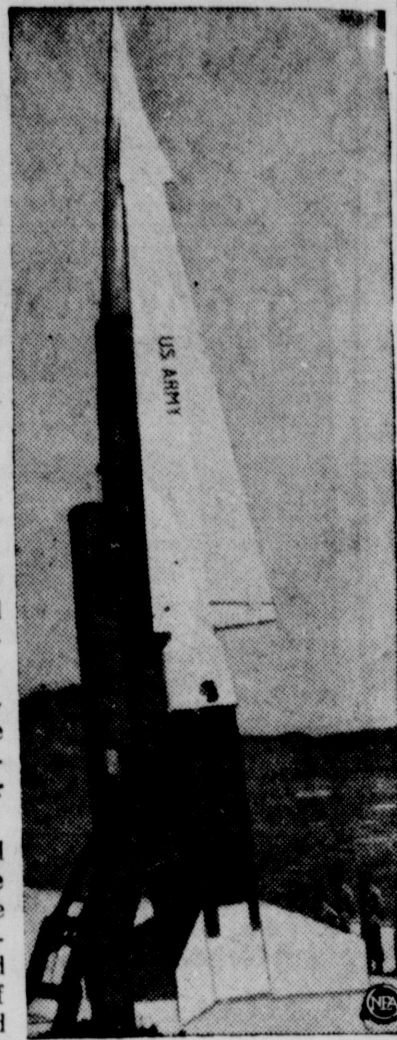

Like the Army's Nike-Hercules, the new Bomarc will do about 2,000 miles an hour. It will hit a plane at 90,000 feet.

With the Bomarc, the Air Force aims at setting up a line across the northern U.S. frontier — with groups of batteries several hundred miles apart.

The aim: to catch Red bombers long before they reach their targets. These batteries would attempt to knock down the bombers the Air Force's F-108's failed to catch over northern and central Canada.

A full complement of operational Bomarc's not be in the hands of experienced Bomarc-firing troops for somewhat over two years.

Each Bomarc "B" missile will cost about $400,000. The entire Bomarc system, including the tracking system, the communications and computer systems and the missiles will cost a total of almost five billion dollars. And this will be for less than half of what Air Force men claim necessary to do the job.

Grand Court Holds Session In St. Louis

The 85th Annual Session of the Grand Court Heroines of Jericho was held at the Masonic Temple, 4525 Olive Street, St. Louis, May 20-22 with ten Courts of the city as hostesses. Mrs. Caddie L. ## Extension Club Uses Lesson To Prepare Dinner

Two dishes for the dinner were prepared by Mrs. Buell Maxwell and Mrs. Frank Hayes at the May 20th meeting of the Eldorado Extension Club which was part of the food lesson, "Quick Easy Meals." The dishes were baked beans with pimientos and stewed chicken with carrots. This was followed by a nutrition IQ of 15 questions.

Mrs. Maxwell then read Mrs. Zimmerman's letter for May, "Balance in Home Life." Singing was led by Mrs. Jiggs Prier.

Each member paid 20 cents toward the scholarship fund.

There were eight members and 21 children present.

The next meeting will be June 24 at the home of Mrs. Charles Parsons. The program will be the second half of the food lesson, "Home improvements" by Mrs. Frank Hayes.

Commencement At Clarksburg

Commencement at Clarksburg District C-11 Monday night closed the last of the elementary schools of Moniteau County. Latham R-V and High Point R-111 having closed last week. A total of 37 received certificates of promotion from the three schools. They will attend high school at California or Tipton with the exception of some living on bus routes leading to high schools in adjoining counties.

WHY

do so many thrifty, well-dressed women shop at ELLIS'?

Well, we think there are a number of reasons . . . and the friendly folks we've talked to tell us the same thing. Some of the reasons for Ellis' style leadership are . . .

QUALITY . . . Ellis' buys from the nation's leading style designers; they get the "cream of the crop"; they insist that the merchandise they sell stand up in service because Ellis' reputation stands back of every garment that is sold.

PRICE . . . Our buying office in New York knows that we at Ellis' want to give just a "little more" for your money and they shop the leading manufacturers with that in mind—that's why you get more of everything for your money at Ellis'.

STYLE . . . Ellis' buyers select the newest and best styles and get them on the way to our store first. You can be sure that style is right if you shop here. It's always new if you buy it at Ellis'.

COMFORT . . . Ellis' salespeople are carefully trained in fitting; our size selections guarantee a perfect fit. Our salespeople know that no sale is right unless the buyer can wear the garment comfortably throughout the normal wearing time.

SELECTION . . . Ellis' carry bigger stocks, greater ranges of sizes, more colors and patterns, to give you the fashions you want. The single feature . . . bigger selections . . . is one of Ellis' most popular advantages our customers tell us.

Now . . . is the time to buy for summer . . . come in and make your selections and get a full season's wear from all your summer fashions. We're air-conditioned for your shopping comfort.

Mrs. Robert W. Aspinall

Marcia Ann Rissler Becomes Bride of Robert W. Aspinall

A pair of seven-branch candelabra holding lighted white tapers, jade palms and a large center arrangement of white flowers formed the setting for the wedding of Miss Marcia Ann Rissler and Elbert W. Aspinall, which took place at the altar of Camp Branch Baptist Church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon Friday, May 29.

The Rev. W. J. Oldham, Marshall, performed the double ring ceremony and was assisted by the Rev. E. O. Farrier of Green Ridge.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rissler, Route 4, Sedalia. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Maria Aspinall, 314 Sage Street, Lake Geneva, Wis., and the late Mr. H. E. Aspinall.

Miss Bonnie Lazenby, Route 2, Green Ridge, at the organ, played wedding music, and accompanied Miss Jane Shaw of Marshall, a sorority sister, who sang "O, Promise Me" preceding the ceremony and during the ceremony sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Karen Rissler, Route 4, sister of the bride, lighted the candles. She wore a pale blue organza dress over taffeta, styled with neckline straight across the front, forming a V in the back, fitted bodice and full, street length skirt. Her headband was of white ester daisies and she wore a wrist corsage of matching flowers.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a floor-length gown of silk organza over satin which she had made herself. The gown was designed with long waist line, full skirt with satin panel in front, satin underskirt and silk overskirt. The front neckline was scalloped and formed a V in the back. The long sleeves

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hendrickson, 316 East Main, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Billings, to the Rev. S. K. Mabry, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. S. K. Mabry, Sr., 223 West Third. The Rev. Mabry, Jr., is associated with the Pentecostal Church of God of America and has also been associated with his father, the Rev. Mabry, Sr., a nationally known tent evangelist. The wedding will take place June 20 at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Gospel Tabernacle.

tapered to a point over the wrists and on each sleeve were six tiny buttons. Her white illusion shoulder length veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls and on the white Bible she carried was a giant white orchid with a shower of ribbon streamers.

Miss Emogene Wright of Clifton Hill, Mo., college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Cecelia Woodward, Marshall, sorority sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pale blue organza over taffeta, street length, fashioned with tight bodice and full skirt. The necklines were straight across in front and V shape in the back. Each carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies and white daisies also formed their head-dresses.

Don Faurot of Grandview served Mr. Aspinall as best man, and groomsman was Joe Collard of Green Bay, Wis.

Ushers were Robert Aspinall, Lake Geneva, Wis., brother of the bridegroom, Fred Horner, Kansas City, and Gary Rickenbrode, Avalon, fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Rissler selected for her daughter's wedding a pale blue street length dress of lace with which she wore white accessories. The bridegroom's mother also wore a lace dress in pale blue shade with white accessories and both mothers had white orchid corsages.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was attended by 150 guests.

The table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a four-tier wedding cake decorated in white and encircled with miniature blue and white daisies.

Serving were Miss Betty Aspinall, Burford, S.C., sister of the groom, Miss Maren Mott, Paris, Mo., and Miss Janice Ringen of Sedalia. Assisting at the reception was Miss Carolyn Rank, Slater, Miss Coradean Czeschin of Kansas City, a sorority sister of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

The couple left on a wedding trip following the reception. For traveling, the bride wore a lavender sheath dress with lavender and green plaid jacket. Her accessories were white and she wore a white orchid corsage. They will spend the summer in northern Wisconsin and in September will be at home at the Valley Forge Apartments, Missouri Valley College, Marshall.

The bride was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1956 and is a junior at Missouri Valley College, Marshall, and is a member of Delta Zeta Sorority. A chemistry major, she plans to teach after graduation. She is a member of Beta Gamma Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, and Cap and Gown, honorary senior women's organization.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lake Geneva High School in the class of 1956, is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. His major is human relations, and upon graduation he will work for the Boy Scouts of America. He is president-elect of next year's senior class.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crosslin, 1528 East Sixth, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen, to Robert Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Robinson, Drexel. Miss Crosslin will be graduated June 9 from the University of Missouri with a Bachelor of Science in Education. She is a member of Delta Zeta social sorority. Robinson is in his junior year in the School of Agriculture Engineering. He is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity. The wedding will take place July 18 at the First Baptist Church.

Lucille Collett And Roland Ohrenberg Wed

Miss Lucille Collett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Collett of Knob Noster, became the bride of Roland Ohrenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ohrenberg, Sweet Springs, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, May 16. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rodney Randall of Higginsville, before a setting of baskets of iris and peonies and greenery in the Valley City Christian Church north of Knob Noster.

Mrs. Joy Payne of Sweet Springs played a program of wedding music preceding the ceremony, the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Nancy Payne, a student of the bride from the Sweet Springs High School, who sang "O, Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length white sheath dress with white lace overskirt and a shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Miss Hazel Ann Collett, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a pink sheath dress and a short pink veil with a scattering of pink flowers. Her bouquet was of pink daisies.

Herbert Ohrenberg of Sweet Springs, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Ushers were Harvey Dean Collett, Knob Noster, brother of the bride, and Alvin Ohrenberg, Columbia, brother of the bridegroom. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Lowland Community Center. A three-tier wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. Dee Tebbenkamp of Knob Noster, centered the table. Mrs. Tebbenkamp served the cake, and serving the punch was Mrs. Albin Ohrenberg, Columbia, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Assisting also were Mrs. Melvin Collett and Mrs. Wallace Dale Collett of Warrensburg, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Miss Mary Sue Collett of Knob Noster, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book and Mrs. Calvin Soenderker, Higginsville, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the gifts.

Members of the wedding party were entertained Friday evening with a dinner at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and bridegroom were also dinner guests there Sunday, after which they left for a short wedding trip to Lake of the Ozarks.

After June 1 the couple will live in Warrensburg where both will attend Central Missouri State College this summer. Mr. Ohrenberg is employed part time at the Vernaz Drug Store in Warrensburg and will attend college this fall. Mrs. Ohrenberg will teach homemaking this fall at the Mayview public school north of Warrensburg.

The bride was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1956 and is a junior at Missouri Valley College, Marshall, and is a member of Delta Zeta Sorority. A chemistry major, she plans to teach after graduation. She is a member of Beta Gamma Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, and Cap and Gown, honorary senior women's organization.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lake Geneva High School in the class of 1956, is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. His major is human relations, and upon graduation he will work for the Boy Scouts of America. He is president-elect of next year's senior class.

Mrs. Donald F. Franklin

Joyce Evans Becomes Bride Of T-Sgt. Donald Franklin

Friday evening, May 29, at 7:30 o'clock, the chapel of the Wesley Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Joyce Leigh Evans and T-Sgt. Donald F. Franklin. White gladioli, pink majestic and pink and white carnations decorated the chapel altar where the double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Walter D. Niles, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. Evans, 310 Poplar Place.

T-Sgt. Franklin, who is the son of Mrs. Fae Crozier and F. F. Franklin, both of Seattle, Wash., is stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base.

Mrs. Jewell H. Thomas, 401 Dal-Whi-Mo Court, at the organ played "Because," "I Love You Truly," "O, Promise Me" and "Perfect Love."

Miss Bonnie Raines, St. Ann, Mo., lighted the candles. Miss Raines wore a dotted Swiss dress of turquoise shade with a turquoise cummerbund. Her head-dress was a tiara of white carnations and pink Sweet heart roses.

The bride's gown of silk organza over taffeta was fashioned with a long molded bodice. The scoop neckline of the yoke of self material was outlined with dainty applique of flowers. The long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Bands of organza, caught with small bows, accented the bouffant floor length skirt which lengthened into a chapel train. Her head-dress was an open crown, of material matching her bodice, which held a circular veil. She carried a white Bible on which was a single white orchid. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Miss Dixie Wilt, 1100 East 15th, a former schoolmate of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Wilt wore a gown of turquoise organza over taffeta and her tiara was of white carnations and pink Sweetheart roses.

Lawrence Franklin, Seattle, Wash., served his brother as best man. Ushers were T-Sgt. James Owens and A-2c William Jones, both of Whiteman Air Force Base. Randall Evans, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore a dress of pink lace with a corsage of white carnations and Sweetheart roses. A dress of turquoise brocade was chosen by the bridegroom's mother with which she also wore a corsage of white carnations and Sweetheart roses.

At 8 o'clock that evening a reception was held at the Sedalia Country Club with guests numbering 100.

Arrangements of white gladioli, pink majestic and pink and white carnations were used in decorations. The bride's table was centered with a four tier wedding cake adorned with wedding bells, and the punch was served from a table decorated with assorted flowers and smilax.

Serving were Miss Sara Beth Tyhurst, Carrollton, Miss Judy Grimes, 417 East 15, and Mrs. Matt Guzman, 2424 Greenwood Lane.

Miss Pat Stephenson, Minneapolis, Minn., was in charge of the guest book.

After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to Old Mexico and will return June 15. The bride's traveling costume was a grey suit dress with white accessories and her corsage was a white orchid.

The bride attended William Woods College in 1958 and 1959 and will attend Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, this fall.

The bridegroom is stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base and is making the Air Force his career.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Draper, Knob Noster, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Dee, to A-3c Neil Holbeck, Whiteman AFB, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil S. Holbeck, Wharton, N.J. The wedding will take place Sunday, June 7, at 3 p.m. at the Knob Noster Methodist Church. (Lehmer photo)

SUMMER TEMPERATURES

The thermometer often plays havoc with our well-planned wardrobes during the summer months. We find we select all hot-sunny weather clothes overlooking an occasional damp, dreary day. Therefore it is the wise woman who selects a light weight summer suit in a medium to dark shade or a dark dress. The selection of dresses for such weather is quite large this season as each year we find more of this type weather. A dark sun dress with a jacket makes a wonderfully comfortable outfit and of course does double duty. Black or brown voiles have made their appearance this year and they are beautiful and extremely feminine — they are unusually smart with a jeweled or even plain sweater. Black eyelets lined with black or some high shade are just the thing for late afternoon or after six. Match your accessories to the lining for that extra special individual look. They are comfortable to wear and so easy to care for. No heavy make-up please — keep your perfume feminine and your jewelry featherweight and at a minimum for that well-groomed look.

Mrs. Lynne A. Frantz

Jeanne Sagar, Lynne Frantz Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

Before an altar banked with pale blue majestic daisies, white stock, white gladioli and greenery, Miss Jeanne Sagar, Long Beach, California, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sagar, 1007 West Third, became the bride of Lynne A. Frantz, Redondo Beach, California, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Frantz, Los Angeles, Calif., at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 24, at the First Baptist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Croxton, Jefferson City, Mo., assisted by the Rev. J. R. Wallace.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Clyde Williams, 644 East Tenth, organist, played "Fascination," "Because," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Bill Burkholder, 2491 Margaret Avenue, vocalist, sang "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," "True Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The candelabras held blue tapers which were lighted by Miss Darlene Ohlinger, Long Beach, California, and Mrs. Travis Cooper, Birmingham, Alabama. They wore dresses identical to those of the matron of honor and the bridesmaid. Their corsages were of white carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ice blue peau de soie. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scoop neck and short sleeves. Scattered re-embroidered French Alencon lace appliques trimmed the front and back of the flared skirt and the chapel train. Elbow-length white kid gloves were worn for the ceremony. The bridal head-dress was a crown of matching French Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls to which was fastened her fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis on a blue New Testament.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Gil Lampton, sister of the bride, Lake Lotawana, Missouri, and the bridesmaid, Miss Joy Cunningham, Kansas City, Missouri, wore identical dresses of powder blue nylon organdy over peau de soie fashioned with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. Peau de soie cummerbunds formed large back bows with hem-length streamers. Their wide brimmed hats were of blue transparent horsehair on a circlet of velvet. They wore short white kid gloves and carried spray bouquets of white carnations tied with powder blue.

Gil Lampton, brother-in-law of the bride, Lake Lotawana, Missouri, served as best man.

Regular Meeting Of Rebekah Lodge

The Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge held its regular meeting Monday night, May 18, at the hall with the Noble Grand, Mrs. Estelle Fletcher, presiding.

During the business meeting the members voted to give a donation to the Schuyler Colfax Memorial fund.

Mrs. Hilda Morgan reported that Alice Seymour had been selected as the most deserving girl graduate of the Green Ridge High School and was awarded the scholarship from the Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge.

Jim Edmundson was the boy selected from the Green Ridge High School by the Green Ridge Odd Fellows Lodge, who received the scholarship from the Green Ridge Odd Fellows.

A memorial program will be presented at the first meeting in June which will be Monday night, June 1, in memory of all deceased members of the order. Mrs. Marjorie Egbert, Mrs. Lena Embree and Mrs. Sula Brown will be in charge of the program.

The hostesses, Mrs. Marjorie Egbert and Mrs. Edith White served refreshments to 19 members.

ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Hoff, former Sedalians, quietly observed their 60th wedding anniversary at their home in Pilot Grove on May 23. They are both 83 years of age, and both in good health. Mrs. Hoff does all her own house work and Mr. Hoff has a large garden which he tends.

The Hoffs resided at 1622 South Sneed until 1940 when they moved to Pilot Grove. He is a retired coach carpenter repairman at the MKT Shops where he started to work in 1924.

They have four daughters, Mrs. William M. Jackson, 1207 West Fifth, Mrs. Harry Mines, 1718 South Osage, Mrs. Emory Gammon, Kansas City and Mrs. Edson Haller, Boonville, one son, Herbert Hoff, 621 East Ninth, a granddaughter, Mrs. Charles Verts, 1814 East Broadway, one of 14 grandchildren. They also have seven great grandchildren.

Dorothy Nolting, Charles Ball Wed May 22

Miss Dorothy Nolting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nolting of Stover, and Charles A. Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Ball of Versailles, were united in marriage on Friday, May 22, at the Versailles Methodist Church with the Rev. Raymond Rumbold and the Rev. Joseph Gerlt, Avoca, Iowa, uncle of the bride, officiating.

The church altar was decorated with baskets of white peonies and mock orange with candelabra holding lighted white tapers on either side.

The program of wedding music was played by Mrs. Arthur Eickhoff, Versailles, and Miss Elizabeth Nolting, sister of the bride, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white tulle and lace. The bodice was enhanced with Chantilly net nylon lace trim as was the bouffant skirt and the neckline was V-shape. The skirt was accented with an apron effect of lace in both front and back. Seed pearls and lace ornamented her shoulder-tip veil. She wore long white gloves and carried a cascade bouquet of red roses. A double strand of pearls, her only jewelry was a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hiram W. Shepp, Versailles, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of white swissette over seaspray blue taffeta. At the back of the bouffant skirt was a draped bow. She wore a headband of matching blue taffeta and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Warren McCollister of Brookfield, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and her gown, headdress and corsage were identical to that of the matron of honor.

Miss Shirley Ball and Miss Geraldine Ball of Kansas City, sisters of the bridegroom, lighted the candles. Both wore dresses of white swissette over pink taffeta styled identical to those of the matron of honor. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Marvin Ball, Versailles, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and groomsmen was Dwane Warren.

Richard Gerlt, Fortuna, and James Shultz, Versailles, were ushers.

The bride's mother chose to wear for her daughter's wedding a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, too, wore a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories, and both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Miss Delores Viebrock, Stover, presided at the guest book.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The linen covered bride's table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. On either side were crystal candleholders with lighted white tapers. Mrs. Joe Wood and Mrs. Met Hughes, both of Versailles, served at the bride's table and assisting at the reception were Mrs. Lowell Mothersbaugh, Mrs. Russell Ball, Mrs. John Heimsoth, Mrs. Leroy Nolting and Mrs. Walter Gerlt.

Miss Lorena Gerlt, aunt of the bride, and Miss Betty Lou Gerlt, cousin of the bride, were in charge of the guest table.

The bride's going away costume was a light blue sheath dress with a matching short jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. Upon their return from a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Versailles.

The bride was graduated from Stover High School in 1956 and attended Capital Business Institute in Jefferson City. She is presently employed at the Bank of Versailles.

The bridegroom was graduated from the Versailles High School in 1955 and is employed at the Kansas City Bifocal Co. in Versailles.

Joyce Davis, Fred Davis Are Married

The marriage of Miss Joyce Morine Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin W. Davis of Lincoln, and LeRoy Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of Lincoln, was solemnized at 6 o'clock in the evening, Saturday, May 23, in the Lincoln Methodist Church. Mixed pink and white flowers, greenery and candles decorated the chancel of the church where the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Steven Gardner and the Rev. Russell Estes.

Mrs. Homer Brady of Cole Camp, at the piano, played wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Nina Estes of Lincoln who sang "O, Perfect Love" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with long tapering sleeves which formed points over the wrists, and a low scalloped neckline. Her veil of white nylon net was elbow length and was held in place by a headband of nylon and pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of baby pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations with a shower of white satin streamers attached to a white Bible.

Miss Janice Davis, Lincoln, sister of the bride, and her only attendant, wore a gown of orchid shade styled like that of the bride except for the sleeves which were short. Her gloves and the flowers in her hair matched the color of her dress and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with pink satin ribbon. Miss Davis also lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Serving as best man for Mr. Davis was J. W. Stone of Windsor.

Ushers were LeRoy Carney and Weldon Brady, both of Lincoln.

The mother of the bride wore a suit of navy blue with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a black chiffon dress with white and black accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

The reception was held at 6:30 o'clock in the basement of the church which was decorated in pink and silver. Serving the cake was Mrs. Charles Davis. Mrs. Roland McCandless served the punch and Mrs. R. G. Carney presided at the coffee urn. All were of Lincoln.

Mrs. Harvey Dean Rank, Liff-corn, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left following the reception for a wedding trip to Colorado Springs. For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue sheath dress with which she wore navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride attended Lincoln R-2 School and is employed at the furniture store in which the bridegroom is associated with his father in the furniture and funeral business. He also attended Lincoln R-2 school and Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg.

...And There Is No Peace

One of the great questions of human history is how much man depends upon conflict as a spur to progress.

You can find the historians, the social scientists and the philosophers all over the map on this one.

Many will tell you that man thrives on conflict, both good and bad. They say not only that much of his progress derives from it, but that without it man languishes in boredom, his senses dulled and his productive capacities only partly tapped.

Take for example the two great world wars, the dead of which along with those of other wars we honored yesterday—Memorial Day. No sane person pretends they were not colossal tragedies, with immense cost in human life and suffering incalculable waste and destruction.

Yet in both instances great impetus was given, especially in the United States, to the industrial and scientific revolution which has brought higher living standards in many places and could bring great added human betterment to many more.

Invention and experiment were greatly speeded. The new became common in materials, products, techniques of making and managing. Whole vistas were opened in fields like electronics.

Newspapers often are chided for giving so much space to conflict, whether it be the juvenile gang beating on the corner or the snarling at Geneva. But many who take the long look would say simply that they are responding to the demand of men for a diet of excitement and drama.

With so much said by so many thoughtful observers of mankind, what can be added on this perplexing matter?

Nothing perhaps that would detract from the notion that conflict in the sense of competition, at all levels and in all areas of life, is healthy, stimulating, a powerful driving force.

But it may be ventured that in this mid-20th century the diet has gotten terribly heavy. Conflict on the streets, in the market places, at the conference tables of the world, in the home, has become so much the rule in the grand scale it may be more destructive than helpful to the human spirit.

It may be, too, that conflict drummed into us so steadily will become the thing that bores us. How long can we read of totalitarian excesses, of juvenile brutalities, of violence arising from management-labor argument, of sharp clashes even among international friends, of a thousand and one such collisions, without sliding toward insensibility?

Maybe the case is strong that conflict means progress. But history has no iron law which reads: The more conflict, the more progress. There could be a law of diminishing returns which could hurt us all.

Nixon Stops Speech Critical Of Strauss

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Sen. Gale McGee is a handsome young professor of history at the University of Wyoming who decided to make history in the U.S. Senate. He is doing so. Young Vice President Nixon, recognizing ability, has been quite friendly, sometimes jumping over senior senators when he is presiding, to recognize McGee.

During a recent "morning session" when senators are supposed to speak only three minutes, Nixon once again recognized McGee. He smiled pleasantly. But as McGee began to talk, Nixon's smile faded. He got red in the face, began watching his watch.

McGee was explaining to the Senate how Adm. Lewis Strauss had deceived the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee in testifying for his confirmation as Secretary of Commerce. He showed how Strauss had told the House Appropriations Committee one thing and the Senate Commerce Committee exactly the opposite.

"The time has come to assess the pattern of this man's public conduct," McGee asserted. "Not only is he wrong, he has tried to deceive a committee of the Senate."

Nixon banged his gavel. "The senator's time has expired," he said.

"I ask unanimous consent to proceed for 30 seconds more."

Nixon couldn't very well refuse. For Senator Jack Javits, New York Republican, had just spoken for 10 minutes, despite the three-minute limitation on debate. So Nixon quietly sent a messenger to McGee, then gavelled him to his seat.

As he stopped, up jumped Senators Engle of California, Moss of Utah, and Yarborough of Texas. "Will the senator yield?" they chorused.

But Nixon wouldn't recognize them. He knew they were going to support McGee's criticism of Admiral Strauss. He looked

Joneses to Alaska

Alaska will surely be well populated with Joneses. A family of twenty-six from Michigan, are headed for the latest frontier. (And, chances are, Alaska already had a modest supply of Jones families.)

Nathan Jones, age 76, head of the Jones clan, will head the westward and northward caravan. His wife, four sons and their wives, and sixteen Jones grandchildren ranging in years from 14 years to 6 months, will accompany him. A fifth son with his wife and children expect to join the clan later.

The caravan including four station wagons and a truck will leave Michigan this summer to homestead in the Susitana Valley, northwest of Anchorage. They are taking a portable sawmill and other necessary tools to aid them in building new homes in a new land. Luckily, the Alaska summer will permit them to live in tents until houses can be built.

One Jones boy will stay in Michigan but the adventurers do not anticipate any financial difficulties because they sold their homes in Michigan and have the funds to begin life anew in the new state.

Others may try to keep up with the Joneses!

Guest Editorial

LEVITTOWN (PA.) TIMES: Purpose Is To Educate.—Let the schools quit serving as home, playground, recreational haven, baby sitter, teacher of social graces, scoutmaster, Sunday school teacher, disciplinarian, physical culturalist, TV talent coach, medical and dental consultant, and the fount of all strength for every youngster who enters the hallowed hallways— from the time he toddles in on mother's apron until the time he swaggers out on the ribbon end of a high school diploma.

And also let's stop these essay contests, fund drives, and a lot of other well-intentioned but ill-advised outside foolishness which contribute nothing to a kid's education but which require a teacher or a school principal to spend half of his time promoting, exploiting, judging and exercising diplomacy.

We think the purpose of schools is essentially to educate within a climate of wholesome and helpful influence.

We also think that the home, the church, the community must take it from there.

Explain Me This

They're saying that Averell Harriman, now gadding about Russia and trying to get into Red China as a newsman, may head the New York delegation at next year's Democratic convention.

This doesn't mean that Averell suddenly has found renewed political importance in New York or beyond. It just means he can serve as kind of a neutral pacifier among warring Democratic factions in the state.

The truth is that the rise and fall of Harriman as a political factor is one of the odd events of the decade.

He'd had a substantial career in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations as an administrator and diplomat. But he rose almost out of the political nowhere in 1954 to become governor.

Riding on the strength of that, he made himself a presidential candidate in 1956, though he never made serious headway. Two years later Nelson Rockefeller beat him in a bid for re-election, and he tumbled back into the backwaters from which he had come.

Seldom has a New York governor of either party shot so high in so short a time and yet, seemingly, left so slight a mark of influence. The political historians may be quite a while explaining this one.

Platform In The Sky

The latest space gimmick is a landing platform in the sky. The Air Force is likely to support a study to provide a device which will power hovering air stations. The platform would be suspended in air by means of an electro magnetic extension cord.

The unmanned helicopter-like vehicle would stay aloft for long periods through a novel ground-to-air hook-up. It would tune in on high power radio waves beamed from the ground and convert them into heat to drive its rotor.

These platforms which would look like an upside down shallow bowl or ceiling light shipping, to relay television or radio signals fixture could be used to keep track of oceanic shipping, to relay television or radio signals over long distances or to plot the weather.

This idea may be just another space dream, but if some morning a saucer which is stationary and not flying would appear in the sky, it would probably be one of those platforms.

A Rare Request

Over in Aydin, Turkey, Arzuhalci Cevdet, long separated from his wife, opposed her request for a divorce which included a demand for $100 per month alimony. He said he would agree to the divorce if he were permitted to pay her $200 per month "so she could live decently."

This case would be an eye-catcher anywhere, but in the Moslem sect it is surely exceptional, for Islamic law permits a man to divorce his wife by saying thrice to each of the four winds, "I divorce you."

Perhaps his pride would not bear the thought of her living beneath his station—or perhaps he loves her still.

Patriotic bodies, veterans of wars in which the United States had participated, and others paraded in observance of Memorial Day and at Crown Hill Cemetery, the Rev. J. B. For the third successive day the temperature here reached the century mark.

Life's Score

This world of ours is strange indeed,
With many people here in need
And many with so much that they
Somehow in life just lose the way,
But nothing that God can bestow
Can equal love—and grass may grow
High on the graves where rich men lie
Where monuments are big and high
Yet not a flower with loving care
Is placed at the headstone there,
And not a memory lingers on
For he who lived and now is gone;
And yet upon the grave we find
Of someone poor, those left behind
Place flowers, perhaps those they have grown
Upon the grave of their own,
With many years of time gone by
Still flowers are placed where they lie;
No wealth did they have to leave
And no great thing did they achieve
For they, like He of humble birth,
In their brief time here on earth
Had little worldly things to give
But yet, each year they had to live
Was filled with beauty every day,
That somehow did not fade away,
Still other rich men seem to share
Their wealth with people everywhere
And when their call has come at last
Grateful are memories of the past,
And often people pass that way
To place a wreath or wee bouquet,
And so with living it is, too,
Life adds up to the things we do
And those who sow the kindly seeds
Will reap a harvest of good deeds,
But those who live aloft and cold
Will feel the chill when they grow old;
'Tis then they find life never brings
Much comfort in material things,
And through their lives cruel things they've done
Take their toll at the setting sun.
While those who felt their shining power
Still have love in the sunset hour,
And when the curtain at last is drawn
Who is chosen at the dawn?
It matters little—rich or poor—
Only those pass through the door
Who through life goodness has spread
That keeps on living when they're dead,
For wealth or poverty mean naught
It's what is done and what is thought,
It's simply how we play life's role
That day by day doth shape the soul
And Heaven's gate will open wide
To let the worthy come inside.

Three-year-old David had a minor ailment and was taken to the doctor by his mother. The doctor and David's dad are very good friends, so the doctor said to the little boy: "David, I have a message I want to send by you to your father."

David agreed to take it. "You tell your father," the doctor said, "that he is a fisherman and a hunter and a loafer." Then he had the youngster repeat it several times so he would remember it.

A couple of days later the doctor met David's father and asked him, "Did your son deliver the message I sent to you by him?"

"No, he didn't," replied the father. So when he arrived home that evening he questioned the little boy. "Why didn't you give me the message the doctor told you to give me?" he asked. "I couldn't remember part of it," said the child.

"Think real hard," suggested the father, and David thought and thought, then his little face brightened.

"He said you were a hunter and a fisherman and—and—a slice of bread." —H. L.

"What a beautiful sun tan," said one woman to another. "How did you get it?"

The woman with the sun tan beamed. "Out in my back yard," she said.

The group of women were envious and curious. "Did you put some lotion or something on to get it?" one asked.

"Yes," replied the sun tanned woman. "Iodine and oil."

"I used that," replied the other woman, "and it turned me a funny color."

The sun tanned woman looked surprised. "I wonder why?" she said.

"How much iodine do you use?" queried someone else.

"Three drops to a cup of mineral oil," said the sun tanned girl. "Oh, somebody told me half and half and I used it half and half."

The sun tanned woman laughed. "No wonder you turned a funny color," she said. "That would make anybody a funny color." —H. L.

Grandmother had been keeping Richard all day while his mother and daddy went to the lake. So she took him downtown and they were hunting for something she had heard him express a desire for, but they couldn't find it. They went from store to store, from one end of the town to the other, and she knew that his little legs must be getting tired.

"Aren't your legs getting tired, Richard?" she asked. "No," he replied, "I'm walking easy so they won't get tired." —H. L.

Don't Confuse Wonder With Violence In Child Stories

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

I've been talking about fairy tales this week. It seems an appropriate time in publicly answer a reader who once wrote, "You seem to approve of fairy tales for children. May not such stories as Grimms' fairy tales scare youngsters?" My little nephew had nightmares after 'Hansel and Gretel' was read to him.

Because Grimms' tales are folk stories rather than fairy tales, some of them are more savage than the kind I've been writing about this week. There seems to be a wish to horrify behind the story of "Hansel and Gretel," for instance, that is quite different from the gentle spirit behind the Andersen tales or the robust, matter-of-fact one behind the Arabian Nights.

So we have to be selective about the kinds of stories we read to little boys and girls just as we have to about the food we feed them.

Actually, what we're discussing is the comics controversy: Are stories of violence and horror upsetting to children?

Psychiatrists' opinions differ. So I have to put the question to a psychoanalyst whose unprejudiced judgment I trust. He said: "It seems mistaken to me to subject any child to any sudden big dose of the startling. We can ask too much of a baby's stomach by feeding him lobster and we can ask too much of his brother's emotional digestion by overloading it with shock and amazement."

"Wonder is fine for children because it is a flowing of new appreciation but shocked amazement comes as a blow. Wonder is a gradual experience. Shock is not."

If we think about this answer we will not have to depend on "experts" to tell us what fairy tales to read to little boys and girls or what comics are appropriate.

There's also the matter of suspense in fairy tales. The kind that has been put into Hansel and Gretel requires young listeners to wait too long for the witch's comeuppance. We have learned that it is mistaken to keep Johnny waiting in terror of some threatened punishment.

It should not be hard to see that it's equally mistaken to read him stories about other children who have to wait and wait to learn whether the witch is going to eat them or not.

Bowel Trouble Has More Discomfort Than Danger

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

A number of readers have recently asked for more information on mucous colitis.

There is actually no material difference between this condition and what is also known as irritable bowel or spastic colon.

Incidentally, I do not like to call this a disease because it has many contributing factors and does not constitute a menace to life or to the health in general.

Diarrhea followed by constipation, often accompanied by discomfort in the abdomen and growing sounds, are the most common signs of this uncomfortable ailment. Most of those who have a spastic colon think they are constipated because after a period of fairly loose movements, there may be a delay of a day or more before another occurs.

This idea is wrong. The waste material is passing through the bowels too fast rather than too slowly.

The wavelike motions of the intestines which carry the waste matter downward occur too often and produce discomfort. When there is nothing remaining in the intestines there can, of course, be no bowel movement no matter how often the wavelike motions occur.

People who are nervous, thin and easily upset are particularly liable to spastic colon. The nervous system sends unconscious messages to the bowel which causes the intestinal waves to come more frequently.

This of course makes the symptoms of a spastic colon worse. Nearly all who have it, therefore, notice that the symptoms are worse when they are angry, anxious or annoyed.

Some foods, particularly raw fruits and vegetables, irritate the walls of the bowel and stimulate the intestines to increased peristaltic waves. Most cathartics and laxatives do the same thing, only more so.

The emotional strain of life today appears to have an unfavorable effect. The diet, too, is of course important. The laxative foods and laxative and cathartic drugs should be avoided.

A diet which contains a high proportion of what are called bland foods is desirable. Such a diet consists largely of such things as cooked cereals, milk products, creamed soups, eggs and fish.

Drugs may help somewhat, but it is best whenever possible to do without any drugs as they merely bring temporary relief.

A disappointing feature of this uncomfortable, but not dangerous, condition is that even when recovery seems to be complete, almost any emotional strain or indiscretion in eating will start it off again.

Spastic colon—or so-called mucous colitis—does not predispose to cancer or other serious complications, though it certainly is troublesome.

Love, Honor and Obey Plus Lots More for New Bride

She takes on the responsibility of doing all in her feminine power to make her man think well of himself. The woman who makes her husband feel like a failure is a failure as a wife.

Missouri's Huge Stake In Highway Program

By Esther Van Wagoner Tuft
WASHINGTON — Missouri has a $71 million stake in the survival of the Federal Interstate Highway program.

Unless Congress provides additional financing within two months Federal Bureau of Public Roads will face its deadline for allocating 1960-61 highway money to states with only a bankrupt fund.

Last summer, the bureau allocated about $2.5 billion to states to finance 90 per cent of the 1959-60 cost of interstate highway construction. The law authorizes a similar allocation this summer, but there is no money in the Highway Trust fund to be divided.

At his news conference, President Eisenhower renewed his plea for a 1½ cent increase in the federal gasoline tax, with the proceeds to go into the highway fund to continue payments to the states.

"This is a very necessary activity," the President said, "it is one which now has a great momentum, in which thousands of people are working, and to stop it because of the failure to my opinion, be very bad for our country."

Yet no Republican has backed him up by introducing a bill to increase the tax.

The interstate program began in 1956 with the goal of producing 41,000 miles of highways by 1969. As of early this year, work is under way or completed on 11,403 miles or 28 per cent of the system.

At marriage a girl takes on the responsibility of growing up along with her husband. She can't forever rely on her beauty to keep her husband in love with her or on youth as an excuse for her shortcomings.

With marriage a girl also becomes responsible for making a happy home. She is no longer a girl to be given happiness by fond and indulgent parents but a wife whose main job in life is to make a happy home for a family.

When she marries, a girl also assumes a responsibility for making the most of her looks. For her husband will always have the right to be proud of her.

She also, of course, assumes the responsibility for continuing her education. Charming and interesting women of 50 didn't stop learning at 20. They have been interested enough in the world about them to want to know more and more and so they have blossomed instead of going to seed.

But above all, perhaps, she has the responsibility for being happy. Unless she is a happy person she can't hope to have a happy home, a happy husband or happy children.

Television To Feature Two New States

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The 49th and 50th states are going to get their licks on the nation's TV sets starting next fall.

Two major film companies that have leaped into television are planning a couple of telefilm series apiece to feature the new states. Warners is coming up with an adventure, "The Alaskans," and detective yarn, "Hawaiian Eye."

Twentieth Century-Fox has its own Alaskan series, "The Last Frontier," plus James A. Michener's "Adventures in Paradise."

The latter concerns us today. I wandered out to the Fox islands to find out about the Michener series, said to be ABC's big, big show for 1959-60. It's an hour long, has a monumental budget and will come on Monday nights at 9:30.

Hawaii is not the only locale for the series. It will roam all the South Pacific. Subjects will range from a Western about a big Hawaiian cattle ranch to a frost-bitten saga of the Antarctic.

Mild-mannered, bespectacled Michener was here this week for WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's missile and aircraft industry employs more scientists and engineers in research and development than any other industry, says the National Science Foundation.

a lulu of a luau to signal the start of the filming. With 21 script writers working on stories, the question arises: What does Michener do?

"He has written some story outlines," a spokesman said, "he also has complete script supervision."

I visited the set where the second series chapter is being filmed and found the studio is lavishing almost as much care as on a feature.

The star of "Adventures in Paradise" is handsome, 6 feet 5 Gardner McKay, a New York-born, Paris-educated lad kept under wraps by the studio until now. He's a real sailor, too, and still skips a 96-foot schooner for charter out of Newport Harbor.

Everytime Dean Stockwell and Bradford Dillman appear on the screen in "Compulsion," the camera will be tilted slightly to suggest that something is wrong with the pair. They play Chicago's teen-age "thrill-killers" in this dramatization of the Meyer Levin best-seller. Starts today at the Fox.

Teacher Is A Stripper In Night Club

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A shapely blonde junior high school teacher who quit teaching because a school official criticized her dress, turned up today as a featured stripper in a burlesque night club.

Needless to say, she resigned her teaching job before she turned peeler. Her hometown is Minneapolis. Her real name is Patricia Ann Carruthers and she says she was graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1956.

But at the El Rancho Club in Los Angeles, she unveils nightly under the name of Patti White. She says she made the name change in order not to embarrass the suburban school where she taught until last October.

She said she chuckled teaching when one official kept riding her about the way she dressed.

"Everything I did was wrong," she said. "Either my dresses were too tight or too revealing. I couldn't even wear long earrings without criticism. The kids all loved the way I dressed but one day this official said: "Do you realize what you are doing to these junior high school boys?" "I decided then that I couldn't be myself any more if I stayed in teaching. So I quit."

"I never really wanted to be a teacher anyway," said told a reporter. "I've always wanted to be an actress."

She said she sought acting work, but jobs were scarce. Finally her agent got her a job at the night club as a nude — The models who just stand on the stage, as nude as the law allows.

"Then, a few weeks ago," she said, "the manager handed me a g-string and told me to go out there and strip."

"I do everything on impulse. Before I knew it, I was out there. I never dreamed that I ever could — but there I was."

"I still blush when I perform."

Does she prefer burlesque to teaching school?

"It beats getting up at 6 a.m. And no one criticizes my dress. And there are no papers to correct."

Walter Matthau and Felicia Farr receive wedding congratulations from Andy Griffith in his latest feature, "Onionhead". Griffith stars as Coast Guardsman in hilarious screen version of Weldon Hill's best selling novel. Co-feature, "The Gift of Love" stars little Evelyn Rudie, known to millions of T.V. fans for her portrayal of "Elodie." Lauren Bacall and Robert Stack also star in this scope and color romantic drama. Both features shown tonight and Monday at the 50 Drive-In Theatre.

Hawaii's civilian population is about equal to that of Seattle, Wash., spread out in an area equal to Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Prize By Old
Trails Group
To Warsaw

By Mrs. Denzil Boring

WARSAW—Warsaw won the attendance prize at the sixth semi-annual meeting of Old Trails Council of Girl Scouts held at Flat Creek Inn, Sedalia, recently. Warsaw had the largest percentage of their adult members present at the meeting. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cooper, Mrs. Kenneth Austin, Mrs. Laura Kammerich, and Mrs. Florence Kingma.

Carla Jo Shull, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shull, Warsaw, was notified recently that her letter on "What Electrical Appliance I Would Like to Give on Mother's Day" was a winner in the second group of a contest sponsored by the Rural Electric Missouri magazine. The contest was open to all rural Missouri children below the age of 17. The R-6 first grader received an electric frying pan and a lapel pin for her winning entry.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allman are completing work on a new boat launching ramp at their recently purchased Cold Springs Beach Resort across the lake from Warsaw. They plan to build a number of rental cabins at the resort this summer and are also doing work on the roads and having wells drilled.

Miss Linda Hunt, Kansas City, daughter of former Benton Countians Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hunt, took first place in the declamation division of Central High School's Inter-Society contests recently. Linda, who represented the Delphian Literary Society in the competition, had "The Three Faces of Eve" as her topic. Linda will graduate this year and plans to attend Tulsa University, where she will major in art and dramatics. Her aunt, Mrs. R. B. Petts of Warsaw, attended the Inter-Society Contest in Kansas City with Linda and Mr. and Mrs. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hawley entertained Friday night with a barbecue honoring their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rogers of Long Island, N. Y. Mr. Rogers and Mr. Hawley served in the Navy together during World War II.

Mrs. Herbert Cooper and Mrs. L. R. Hughes II were in Springfield Friday to attend the annual Mother's Day services at the Chapel. They were guests of Miss Julie Coover, a Drury student. Mrs. Edwin Brady also attended services with her son, Bob E. dy, a Drury sophomore.

A party honoring the first birthday of Stanley Kreisel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kreisel of Warsaw route, was held at his home on May 2. The little friends present included: Sandra Kreisel, Cheri Heritage, Pam Hedrick, Norma and Susan Schroder, Lorie Thurman, Vicki, Nanzy and David Aery, Adra Franks and mothers of the children. Refreshments of cake and punch were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. John Lay was hostess at a unique luncheon last Wednesday. Guests included dog lovers and their dogs, and were from Hughesville and Warsaw. Among those present were Mary McClure, Norma McCurdy, June Lutjen, Marta Mustaine, Hughesville, and Kathleen Miles and Joe White of Warsaw. Dog breeds represented included a Schipperke, Dachs-hund, German Shepherd and several French poodles. The luncheon featured a crab salad, tea biscuits and iced coffee.

Second Lt. Roche Martin has completed the prescribed courses of instruction of the Air Training

Smithsons Take Europe Pleasure Trip

By Mrs. Merle Welpman

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smithson, formerly of Stover, recently left on a pleasure trip to Europe. They will be away from their Southern Pines, N. C., home for about two months. The Smithsons came to Stover from Kansas City about 12 years ago. Mr. Smithson was co-founder of the Story-Smithson Textile Processing Factory. They moved to North Carolina about two years ago, but Mr. Smithson is still owner of the Stover Factory.

Baccalaureate services were held for the graduating class of Stover Sunday, May 17. The program: Processional, "Pomp and Circumstances" by the high school band. The Invocation was given by the Rev. J. C. Schedler. Two songs were by the Mixed Chorus, "Dear Land of Home" and "Benedictus Es, Domine." The sermon was given by the Rev. J. C. Schedler, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran Church.

The eighth grade commencement will be on Tuesday, May 19, 8:00 p. m. with Professor Donald Sater giving the address, the high school commencement with Honor Convocation will be Thursday evening, May 21, 8:00 p. m.

The eighth grade pupils of Stover enjoyed themselves Tuesday, May 12, by having a wiener roast at the school. They played softball before feasting on hot dogs and marshmallows. The latter part of the evening was enjoyed by a skating party at the Brockman Roller Rink. They were accompanied by their teacher, Charles DeJarnett, also Mrs. Henry Brunjes, a parent of one of the children.

High school students will spend their last day of school May 22 at the Bagnell Dam and a lake cruise on the Larry Don. The grade school will go to the Sedalia Liberty Park for their last day.

Leo Fischer, who recently disposed of his Stover hardware business, is now employed in a hardware store in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Eldridge, Kansas City, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Lillie Duffer, also Carrie Cole and friend, Kansas City, visited the Clarence Ausman home over the weekend.

Missouri Synod Meets

Major Issues Before Lutheran Convention

SPONSORING CHURCH—St. Paulus Lutheran Church, San Francisco, pioneer church of Lutheranism on the Pacific Coast. Organized May 17, 1967 by Pastor Jacob Matthias Buchler, this congregation has contributed three of seven presidents of the California-Nevada District during the past 72 years. Present pastor is District President Arthur C. Nitz. The opening communion service of the convention will be under the jurisdiction of St. Paulus Church.

Major issues at the forthcoming triennial national convention of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, according to an advance survey of leaders of the church, will be election of officers, expansion of educational institutions, increased support of foreign missions, financial problems, relations of the Synod with other church bodies, and discussion of the report of the Synodical Survey Commission on organizational structure of the church body.

The 10-day 44th regular convention will be held in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco from June 17 to 27. The meeting will open with a communion service at 10 a.m. on Wednesday at which Dr. Oliver R. Harms, fourth vice-president of Synod, will preach. The Rev. Arthur Nitz, president of the California-Nevada District of the church will be the liturgist.

Reports from boards and committees, together with proposals from groups or individuals within the church are contained in a 600-page "Book of Reports and Memorials," mailed to congregations and delegates four weeks prior to the convention. Three years ago the 549-page book included 145 different items. This year the total is 203.

Electoral circuits of approximately 10 to 15 congregations each will be represented by 400 lay delegates and 400 clergy delegates. In addition, there will be about 180 advisory delegates, and about 200 persons who are members of official boards and committees and professors at Synod's 14 educational institutions. Thousands of visitors are expected to attend various sessions of the convention.

Fifteen floor committees will consider the memorials or resolutions submitted by individuals, congregations, circuits, boards, and other groups. The 200 members of the floor committees, all appointed by the president of the Synod will be listed in the Lutheran Witness, the church's official organ, four weeks prior to the convention.

Beginning on the second day of the convention, four presentations
